Dulles Voices Hope for Pact With Soviets

Secretary Thinks Red Power Struggles May Produce Abler Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says a power struggle in Moscow eventually will produce Russian leaders with whom the United States can make "practical agreements" to ease world tensions

He also says the Formosa crisis can be settled if Red China will renounce the use of force to capture Nationalist-held islands

Diplomats noted that the secretary's speech last night to the Foreign Policy Assn in New York was calm and peaceful in tone but firm against spread of communism in any important new areas of Asia

Deliberately Calm

Dulles apparently took this tone deliberately in contrast to recent warlike speeches by Soviet Foreign Minister V M Molotov and Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En lai. Molotov denounced the United States Chou threatened, as Dulles put it, to use "all the forces at his command" to capture Formosa.

As for the Formosa problem, Dulles said the United States ' has no commitment and no purpose to defend such islands as Quemoy and the Matsus ' as such " But he made clear that it might well fight over Quemoy and Matsu if any Communist attack on them was aimed at the conquest of Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa.

Dulles appealed to the Chinese Reds to reconsider a United Nations Security Council bid to discuss a Formosa cease-fire

"It is hardly to be expected," he said, ' that the Chinese Communists will renounce their ambitions However, might they not renounce their efforts to realize their goals by force?"

Distinction Made

Discussing the Russian situation, he said a distinction must always be made between the Soviet government and the Communist party.

"The time may come—I believe it will come," he said, "when Russians of stature will patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their people.

"They will be unwilling to have that security and that welfare subordinated to the worldwide ambitions of international communism.

"If their point of view should prevail, then indeed there could be a basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreement between the United States and the new Russ a "

The secretary did not speculate within what period of time "Russians of stature" might seize power from those whose first dedication, he said is to "international communism "

Despotic Move

Dulles said the demotion of Georgia Malenkov as premier 10 days ago and the elevation of Nikolai Bulganin to succeed him provided "an extraordinary demonstration of despotic disarray "

"The Prime Minister of the Soviet state," he said, was preemptorily summoned to a high Soviet session in the Kremlin and subjected to the public humiliation of hearing another read his resignation and his confession of 'my guilt ' "

The full significance of what happened is still obscure Dulles said and "perhaps the last act of the drama has not yet been played "

NEW FIGURE IN RUBINSTEIN CASE. Herman Scholz, 50-year-old chauffeur sits with detective (left) in car en route to district attorney's office in New York City. Police said they were hopeful that questioning of Scholz would lead to the solution of the murder of the playboy-financier Serge Rubinstein. They said Scholz admitted that he plotted two years ago to kidnap Rubinstein.

U.S. Judges Also Covered In Salary Bill

House Votes $10,000 Increase by 283-118; Little Opposition Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders predicted today the Senate will follow the House lead in voting a substantial pay boost for members of Congress and federal judges.

The House voted 283-118 yesterday to give the 96 senators and 435 representatives a $10,000 annual boost to $25 000 Comparable raises are included for the vice-president, the House speaker, all federal judges and U S. attorneys.

May Act Next Week

Sen Clements (D-Ky) acting majority leader, said the Senate probably will take up its version of the pay, raise next week

The bill approved by a heavy majority in the Senate Judiciary Committee would give members of Congress a $7,500 increase to $22,500

Sen Kefauver (D-Tenn), who headed a subcommittee which conducted hearings on the question, told a reporter today he believes the Senate will pass its bill "by a substantial margin "

He said "at the moment" his plan is to stick to the Senate bill, "then work out our differences in conference "

Sen George (D-Ga), dean of the Senate and its president pro tem, and Sen Bridges (R-NH), senior Republican member, support the raise to $22,500

Reports Public Bitter

However, one senator who has backed a pay boost said in an interview today his mail is running heavily against it and that, while visiting in his state last week, he found people "bitter" about it This senator, asking not to be named, indicated he may vote "no "

The pay bill sailed through the House with relatively light opposition.

Minority Leader Halleck (R-Ind) said most federal employes have had four or five pay hikes since members of Congress last got one in 1946

A move by Rep Burdick (R-ND) to hold the raise to $5,000 lost on a standing vote

GOP Parley Slated For San Francisco

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee today unanimously ratified the selection of San Francisco as the site for the GOP national convention in 1956 Approval was by a voice vote

The committee approved a resolution submitted by a site subcommittee calling for convening of the convention in the huge Cow Palace in the West Coast city the week beginning Aug. 20, 1956.

Hold Brief Huddle

The action came after a brief discussion during which committeemen from Pennsylvania and Illinois expressed regret that the party could not meet in Philadelphia or Chicago, other main contenders for the host city.

The Democrats have picked Chicago for their 1956 convention, starting either July 23 or Aug 13

GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall headed the GOP site subcommittee which announced yesterday it would recommend San Francisco to the full committee.

President Eisenhower arranged to deliver an off-the-record talk at a closed luncheon meeting of the GOP committee.

Hall, in a speech prepared for the session, heaped praise on Eisenhower as "the greatest leader of our times" and appealed to his fellow committeemen

"Let's sell Republicanism as we never have before. And we can do it under the leadership of one of the greatest men any party ever had—Dwight D Eisenhower—if we follow him "

Raps Dissenters

Hall, who says he assumes Eisenhower will run for a second term, also hit at dissenters within the party who, he said, "haven't caught up with the facts of life "

Without naming them, he said, "These little groups don't trouble me—they have always been with us. Every nation and every political party has had them "

Up until last week San Francisco had not been considered in the GOP convention picture Only Chicago and Philadelphia had made formal bids of $250,000 each weeks ago and these were repeated yesterday

Hall credited Mayor Elmer Robinson of San Francisco with the invitation.

Prize Witness Says:

Rubinstein Murder Was Bungled Kidnap Attempt

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say frail, 50-year-old Herman Scholz, who reportedly has fingered" the possible killers in the Serge Rubinstein case, is being questioned about two unsolved bank robberies

Scholz, picked up Tuesday, told how his own plan to kidnap Rubinstein, 46, for ransom was carried out without him and resulted in a "bungled" job that resulted in the strangle-slaying of the playboy-financier.

Limousine Driver

The quiet, mild - mannered Scholz, not quite five feet tall, has been a limousine-for-hire driver living an apparently sedate life in Whitestone, Queens, for the past 15 years But, police said, he has an arrest record dating back to 1923, and authorities found a small arsenal in his home — assertedly cached against the day he hoped to become a big time bank robber

Schulz is being held in $25,000 bail as a witness in the Rubinstein murder — the high bail set to keep him in custody and protect him from possible harm by underworld mobsters.

The Russian-born Rubinstein, judged to have been worth about 10 million dollars was slain Jan 27 in the bedroom of his 5th Avenue mansion His pajama-clad body had been trussed with cord from a venetian blind and he had been gagged with extra-wide adhesive tape.

Similar Cord Found

Detectives said similar cord and tape were found in Scholz s home, where he lives with his wife and her parents.

Scholz also told of planning to kidnap gambler Frank Costello but of switching his plans in favor of Rubinstein, World War II draft dodger

Police now are asking Scholz about the $38 000 robbery on Feb 10, 1948, of the Bank of Manhattan branch in Whitestone and the $19,400 holdup of the Woodside Savings and Loan Assn. Jan. 2, 1951

At the time of the Bank of Manhattan robbery, Scholz had a part-time job in a dry cleaning shop next to the bank

Scholz was arrested March 30, 1923, in Sandusky, Ohio, under the name of Herman Schultz, charged with entering and stealing, and placed on probation

On June 3 of the same year he drew a suspended reformatory sentence for larceny at Toledo, Ohio.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala (AP) — State's attorneys began their prosecution of Albert Fuller with groundwork testimony that may point the way later to eyewitness accounts of the death of A. L. Patterson.

Three witnesses testified yesterday that the downtown area in Phenix City where the anti-vice crusader was slain was well lighted.

Thus, if later witnesses tell the jury they saw certain movement the night of June 18 when Patterson was shot, the prosecution will have laid the predicate with testimony aimed at proving they could have seen them.

Defense attorneys, on the other hand, in cross-examination brought out the location of trees, shrubbery and other obstructions, and land elevations that might block a person's view

The 35-year-old Fuller, who was chief deputy sheriff at Phenix City during the reign of racketeering there, is charged with Patterson's murder together with Arch Ferrell, who was prosecuting attorney in the little riverfront town, and former Alabama Atty. Gen. Si Garrett.

Ferrell's trial will follow Fuller's, but no date has been set for Garrett's trial He is undergoing treatment in a Galveston, Tex , hospital.

Should State Work for Cure Of Mentally Ill?

Legislators Ponder Question; Alternative Is Confining Patients

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Should Ohio spend more money for better professional treatment for its mentally ill in attempts to cure and send home prolonged confinement cases?

That was the question which faced Ohio legislators today as they prepared to go home after the seventh work week of the 101st General Assembly.

The problems of the mentally ill were brought before the legislators yesterday by a Kansas mental health expert in an address before a joint session of the Legislature.

And that was his proposition: Shall we continue to build "piles of bricks and mortar" to house the mentally ill, or shall we recruit enough capable physicians and psychiatrists to treat them so they return to society as useful citizens? He added "Shall we buy bricks or brains?"

It was Dr William C. Menninger, general secretary of the Menninger

Trustees Seek 11 Changes in Rules of Zoning

Recommendations of Township Officials Given to Commission

A list of 11 recommendations for changes in the proposed zoning plan for rural sections of Marion Township was submitted to members of the zoning commission today by the township trustees

The trustees had voted to send the proposal back to the members of the commission with recommendations for changes they believed necessary to make it legally sound

Following is a summary of the recommendations contained in a letter to the members of the commission

1 The zoning plan should take the form of "a resolution since trustees are not empowered to pass ordinances or laws

2 A paragraph stating the purpose of the plan should be included

3 The resolution should clearly state, by districts, the various types of uses which will be permitted and should define the geographical location and type of use, construction or other regulations concerning the districts and uses

4 Uses which the zoning commission feels are undesirable should be clearly stated and provisions made for their prohibition and for elimination of already existing undesirable locations

5 Definite provisions concern-

Vagueness May Be Deliberate

Dulles Fails To Clarify Stand on Quemoy, Matsu

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—He didn't say yes and he didn't say no That sums up Secretary of State Dulles reply to the important question Will the Red Chinese be allowed to have Quemoy and Matuso islands?

For months the Eisenhower administration's position on that question has been vague. It was still vague after Dulles finished talking about it in a New York speech last night

Since he didn't make it off the cuff but had plenty of time to prepare it, his vagueness can be considered deliberate Why? Either because the administration hasn't made up its mind, doesn't want to tell the Reds or wants elbow room for horsetrading

Dulles' words can be interpreted this way

1 The United States may fight—Dulles didn't say it would—to defend those islands if the Red Chinese try to take them by force

2 If the Reds play nice, stop talking about invading Formosa and agree to a cease-fire, they may be allowed to have Quemoy and Matsu.

Chiang Kai-shek, American ally, has his main forces on Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands, 100 miles across water from the Red Chinese mainland He has other forces scattered among islands close to the mainland

The United States is pledged to defend Formosa and the Pescadores under a Senate - approved treaty with Chiang As Dulles said last night, this pledge does not extend to any other Chiang-held islands

But Eisenhower could, if he thought them necessary to the de-

State Senator Charged With Setting Blaze

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state senator from Hamilton County was charged by Columbus police today with carelessly setting a fire in his hotel room here

Sen Gordon Renner, 54, (R-Cincinnati), a former speaker of the Ohio House, was charged with carelessly setting fire to a bed in his 12th floor room in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel about 4 a m today

The senator was arraigned in municipal court before Judge Charles R Petree and pleaded innocent His case was continued to March 3

The city ordinance providing penalties for careless starting of fires has been in effect since the summer of 1953.

Sub Seen Off Florida, Navy Investigating

JACKSONVILLE, Fla (AP) — The Navy plans an investigation to give "proper evaluation" to the reported sighting of an unidentified submarine near Fort Pierce, Fla , Wednesday morning

Two Coast Guardsmen, sent out to investigate an "orange glow" at sea, reported they approached within ' a quarter of a mile or less" of the object about 11 miles southeast of Fort Pierce before they lost sight of it in the early darkness

At New London, Conn , Lt Cmdr Jack Parry, public information officer for Atlantic submarine fleet headquarters said, ' It's not ours. We have no submarines operating in that area "

The location would put any underseas craft about 30 miles from the Air Force guided missile base at Cocoa, Fla.

Navy patrol planes were sent out from here but reported they failed to find the object

Navy spokesmen said witnesses would be interviewed and "every effort made to make a proper evaluation" of the reported sighting.

Britain Plans To Go Ahead With H-Bombs

BULLETIN

LONDON—Britain announced today she will develop hydrogen bombs.

A white paper listing government defense plans said:

"The United Kingdom has the ability to produce thermonuclear weapons and after fully considering all implications of this step the government have thought it their duty to proceed with their development and production."

Britain has the atomic bomb. The United States and presumably Russia are the only powers now possessing the vastly more destructive hydrogen bomb.

Won't Be Extradited

Swiss To Try Four Who Took Romanian Embassy

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss government declared today the four anti-Communists who invaded the Romanian legation and killed a chauffeur would stand trial before the courts of this traditionally neutral nation.

A government statement said "under no circumstances" would the four be extradited, as demanded in bitter notes to Bern from the Communist regime in Bucharest

The statement asserted that the legation was situated on Swiss soi and despite its extraterritorial status the men would be tried here instead of Romania for the slaying Maximum sentence in Switzerland for murder is life, with paroles usually granted after 20 years.

Switzerland has never concluded an extradition agreement with Romania, the government statement added, so there could "under no circumstances be any obligation for extradition in this case "

Three of the men gave up their arms and left the legation yesterday after holding it for nearly two days in the face of a show of force by Swiss police and troops A fourth had been arrested early Tuesday when he tried to slip out Police said they refused to give their names

The surrender heightened the international dispute that has strained relations between Romania and this long-neutral nation Some observers predicted a diplomatic break might result.

The four men face trial here for the death of a legation chauffeur, Aurel Sedu, fatally wounded late Monday night when the anti-Reds seized the legation at gunpoint and drove the staff out into the street. Swiss courts are now investigating the case against

Flash Fire Hits Home for Aged Women, 100 Die

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — About 100 aged women died in flaming agony today when a flash fire roared through a Roman Catholic old ladies' home before dawn.

There were only 46 survivors, police said Nearly all were burned or injured in jumps from the second floor of their two-story wooden dormitory, declared a fire hazard in 1953 Several were in critical condition

"I could do nothing," a survivor cried. "I can hear their screams, 'Hot! . . . Hot! . . . Help! . . . Help!' "

The inmates were mainly pitiful old Japanese women without families Their ages ranged from 60 to 96.

Cuts in Tariffs Due for Debate; Approval Seen

Backers of President Confident of House Okay for Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of President Eisenhower's program to boost free world trade by cutting tariffs expressed confidence they held the upper hand today as the House called the measure up for debate.

Both Democratic and Republican floor leaders backed the proposal. But a sizable group of insurgents in both parties promised a last-ditch fight before final action, expected late tomorrow The Senate has not acted.

Will Try 'Gag Rule'

Foes planned first to try today to upset scheduled procedure—they call it "gag rule"—which would limit the opposition to offering only one amendment. They have a long series of trade-restricting ideas they would like to offer.

Failing that, opponents plan to concentrate tomorrow on the single amendment allowed them. Both sides agreed the President's basic program would pass and the big question was whether it would be amended.

The bill would extend for three more years the President's power to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements, and to make further cuts in tariffs on foreign goods coming into the United States in exchange for trade benefits to American products abroad.

Stiff Opposition

With much of the tariff-cutting authority under the present law exhausted, the bill would permit the President to reduce all rates 5 per cent each year below the levels in effect next July 1. In some cases he could make bigger cuts.

Eisenhower has argued this would be a vital step to help U.S. allies sell more goods here, help Americans sell more products abroad, and thus bolster the economy of the entire anti-Communist alliance. It would also strengthen military power and political unity, he contends.

Opponents argue that increased imports of cheaper foreign goods will wreck many competing American industries, bringing economic distress and unemployment instead of boom.

Postponement Of Tax Slashes To Be Studied

House Group Opens Hearings Next Week On Proposals by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) said today the House Ways and Means Committee will act next week on President Eisenhower's request to postpone about three billion dollars in scheduled tax cuts.

The committee is expected to approve by a big margin, possibly on Monday or Wednesday, Eisenhower's recommendation for a one-year postponement of these tax cuts now set automatically for April 1:

(1) From 52 to 47 per cent in the corporation income tax rate, amounting to about two billion dollars annually; and (2) about one billion dollars in excise tax rates on automobiles, cigarettes, liquor, gasoline, beer and wine.

Little opposition to the extension of present rates has been voiced either in the House or Senate.

Meanwhile, it was reliably reported, key Democrats planned a strategy huddle Saturday to consider two questions likely to be much more explosive:

1. A proposal by some Ways and Means members for a drive now to cut individual income taxes for everybody.

2. A move by others to seek repeal of a controversial tax cut on income from dividends, included last year's Republican-sponsored general tax revision bill.

Some committee members have suggested one or both of these proposals might be tacked onto the tax extensions requested by Eisenhower. Either would be certain to provoke a hot fight with the administration.

However, several members said odds are that these two moves, if they develop at all this year, will come later and will not be tied to the tax extensions.

inson with spearheading the drive for selection of San Francisco. The city sent a representative here yesterday offering to match the $250,000 bids of the other cities and promising the GOP rent-free use of the city's Cow Palace, a huge structure built for cattle shows and other expositions and having a seating capacity of close to 17,000.

10,000 Rooms

Cool weather and an option on 10,000 hotel rooms also were held out as inducements.

San Francisco has had only one national nominating convention. That was in 1920 when the Democrats elected Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio to run for president with Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York on the ticket for vice president. That ticket lost.

Hall told newsmen the laws of Massachusetts, South Dakota, Ohio and possibly Connecticut regarding certification of candidates for the ballot might interfere with holding a convention as late as Aug. 20, but it was his understanding these matters would be "cleared up" in time.

Fire

Sister Umeko Sugiyama, 42, a nun, died when she dashed back into the burning building to carry out another of her charges.

The home, a converted Japanese army barracks, was part of the convent of the Garden of Our Lady, belonging to the Francisco Missionaries of Mary, an international Catholic order.

Yokohama police said the blaze apparently started with defective wiring at 4:30 a.m. Heat and sparks ignited a two-story chapel and two other buildings. They too burned to the ground.

The main convent housing 101 nuns and novices, mainly Japanese, was spared.

Firemen spread mattresses and implored the old women to jump. Some did. Others were too feeble. Many were hard of hearing and woke only when flames approached them.

fense of Formosa, defend the other islands. This power was given him in a special resolution approved by Congress.

He decided the Tachen Islands, 200 miles northwest of Formosa, were not necessary for the latter's defense. So last week Chiang withdrew his troops from the Tachens and let the Reds have them.

But what of Quemoy and Matsu? They're close to the mainland and on a direct line between big mainland ports and Formosa. In the hands of the Reds they could serve as stepping stones for a Formosa invasion.

Dulles said:

"The United States has no commitment and no purpose to defend the coastal positions as such." Then, almost wistfully, he wondered whether the Reds "might not renounce their efforts to realize their goals by force." And he added he hoped the Reds' announced decision to take Formosa was "not irrevocable."

But he talked dimly of the idea of letting the Reds have Quemoy and Matsu merely for the asking. He said, "It is doubtful this would serve either the cause of peace or the cause of freedom." Nothing, in so many words, was final in what he said.

11 in Montreal Die In Apartment Fire

MONTREAL (AP) — Fire whipped through the top floors of a 75-year-old brick apartment house in the heart of snow-covered Montreal last night, killing 11 persons and injuring a dozen others.

Firemen combing the ruins early today said there was "only a very slim possibility" more bodies remained to be found.

Attempts to identify the dead were left until today. Some were suffocated as they fought through the halls or stairways with flame and smoke.

Others were so badly burned that eevn their sex would not be determined immediately.

At the north and south poles there are approximately six months of midnight daylight and six months of darkness at noon.

Jurors Acquit Southward of Murder Count

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Amid a courtroom demonstration spiked with applause, 24-year-old Jack Southward yesterday was acquitted of first-degree murder in the death of his wife, Ruth.

The young truck driver had been charged with the shotgun slaying of his 23-year-old wife at their home here. He testified the shooting was accidental.

In the courtroom when the verdict was read were Southward's mother and his two children, aged three and four.

The jury deliberated almost four hours. Southward was charged in his wife's death last Sept. 10, two days after the shooting.

Common Pleas Judge John S. Case cleared the courtroom because of the demonstration after the verdict was read.

The jury of nine men and three women was given the case at 3:40 p.m. yesterday afternoon.

Prosecutor John S. Bath charged Southward with deliberately killing his wife after a quarrel. Defense Atty. Paul M. Herbert asserted Mrs. Southward was wounded when a shotgun discharged accidentally.

Hundreds of townspeople flocked to the trial. Once the crush of the crowd broke a glass panel in the courtroom door.

ing size, location, type and nuisance probability of outdoor advertising should be clearly stated.

6. Provisions should be made for the issuance of zoning certificates, the creation of a township zoning inspector and the payment of certain fees for the zoning certificates to make the zoning plan self-sustaining.

7. A board of zoning appeals should be established.

8. Words which are not of common usage should be clearly defined in the resolution.

9. Provisions should be made for future amendments.

10. A section should be included which will provide for the enforcement of the plan.

11. Provisions should be made that each section, phrase or term should be separately considered for the purposes of determining constitutionality.

The trustees expressed their appreciation of the zoning commission members for the work done in the past and for the public service being rendered. They also sent copies of zoning ordinances from two other townships which had adopted them in the past to serve as guides.

If the zoning commission submits a plan which the trustees feel is acceptable the matter will be placed on the ballot for consideration by the voters in the rural sections of the township. A majority vote would be required to assure its passage.

Foundation, Topeka, Kan., who addressed Ohio lawmakers. In a 30-minute speech, delivered on the Legislature's invitation, he recounted cases where long-time inmates of Kansas' mental institutions returned to society after brief counseling with trained mental physicians.

Cost Was High

It cost Kansas a lot of money, Dr. Menninger said, to put treatment instead of confinement into effect—about four times as much as the state had been spending. But, he said, citizens of Kansas took into consideration they were trying to cure human disease; trying to bring fellow citizens back to useful existence.

Legislators were impressed—particularly since they have been asked to approve bond issues for 100 to 150 million dollars to build new hospitals for Ohio mentally ill.

And Ohio's director of mental hygiene and correction, Dr. John D. Porterfield, said he agrees with Dr. Menninger's recommendation. He said an Ohio building program would be aimed at replacing outmoded buildings rather than erecting new buildings.

Auditors' Pay Boosted

Probably the top bill passed in the Legislature yesterday was a Senate measure to increase the minimum and maximum salaries of county auditors. The Senate approved and sent to the House a bill increasing county auditors' minimum pay from $2,600 to $3,600 a year and their top salaries from $9,000 to $10,000 a year. The minimum increase would apply only in the state's smallest counties; the increase in the maximum would apply in the eight metropolitan counties.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House bills to permit physically and mentally able 70-year olds to continue on the state payroll and to increase pay allowed shorthand court reporters from $15 to $18 a day. Top annual pay for such reporters would be $6,000 a year in counties with two or more common pleas judges and $4,800 in others.

Bills passed by the House and sent to the Senate included a measure to permit Perry County commissioners to sell the old courthouse at Somerset, used when that village was the county seat.

Appointments Confirmed

Senate confirmations of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's appointments included those of R. M. Eyman of Lancaster as state director of education and Charles R. Koch of Van Wert as a member of the state liquor board.

The House Education Committee held a second hearing last night on three bills which would create a state board of education—a board authorized by the voters in 1953 when they approved a constitutional amendment.

The bills appeared headed for a subcommittee which would be empowered to combine the best features of the three and report back to the full committee with a substitute measure. Before that happens, however, the full committee probably will be asked to vote on whether it wants an elected or appointive education board.

9-Member Panel Favored

Committee members indicated a nine-member board was favored with one board member being elected from each of the nine appellate court districts in the state.

The House Commerce and Transportation Committee wound up its second night of hearings on the controversial proposal to grant public utility status to the Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc., which wants to build a cargo-hauling conveyor from Cleveland to East Liverpool. More supporters and the first opponents of the Riverlake bill will be heard next Tuesday.

Poetry Is for the Ears

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP) — Mrs. May Arbuthnot, professor emeritus at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, gave a teachers' meeting here this advice: "In the elementary schools, I think that poetry should be heard and not seen. If the children hear poetry first, it is much better and there is no need to terrorize them by demanding memory work."

Two Gaullists Stay

Two Gaullists chose to stay in Pineau's government — Maurice Lemaire, minister for reconstruction, and Diomede Catroux, secretary of state for air. Both held the same positions in Pierre Mendes-France's government.

The withdrawals left the other 15 ministries divided this way among five parties: Socialists 4, Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP) 4, Radical Socialists 4, URAS 1, and the small leftist Union of Democratic and Socialists Resistance (UDSR) 2.

Without Gaubert, this was the lineup of the other 18 secretaries of state, whose posts are below ministerial rank but are part of the government: Socialists 6, Radical Socialists 5, MRP 4, URAS 1 and USDR 2.

Shaky Majority

Before the URAS defection, the most favorable estimates had given Pineau less than 320 supporting votes in the 627-member chamber. With likely abstentions, that should have assured his confirmation but promised a shaky government with a brief life expectancy.

Pineau was called in by President Rene Coty Monday to try to form France's 21st postliberation cabinet—a task in which both Antoine Pinay, conservative independent, and Pierre Pflimlin of the Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP), had failed.

If Pineau wins assembly approval, he will be the first Socialist premier since Paul Ramadier's government resigned in November 1947. Since the 1951 elections, the Socialists have even refused to serve in any cabinet because of their adamant stand for a program completely in line with party principles. However, they voted solidly for Pierre Mendes - France, whose defeat on a vote of confidence Feb. 5 launched the present government crisis.

them, but Switzerland does not have the death penalty.

The Swiss Federal Court has not yet expressed an official view on the Romanian demand that the men be returned to Bucharest for trial. But Swiss legal experts said the fact that the crime was committed on legation property did not automatically mean extradition.

The Romanian government has reacted as though the killing took place on actual Romanian soil. Under international law, embassy and legation buildings are considered technically part of the nation occupying them.

The refugees came out after Swiss officials negotiated with them for hours and finally a Catholic priest talked to them.

Matusow Says He Was Asked To Do Spy Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvey Matusow, ex-Communist and onetime FBI informer, says he was asked to spy on Nevada publisher Hank Greenspun on behalf of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Greenspun was a political opponent of McCarthy and the late Sen. McCarran (D-Nev).

Matusow was a witness again yesterday in a hearing based on the plea by 13 second-string Communists that Matusow's testimony—which he now says was false—led to their conviction in 1952 on conspiracy charges. They are seeking a new trial.

Last October Greenspun filed a one-million-dollar suit against McCarthy, contending the senator falsely accused him of being an ex-Communist.

Meanwhile, the government filed a charge accusing Greenspun of publishing an article tending to "incite murder or assassination" of McCarthy.

Greenspun said in December there was nothing inciting in the article, which said "the chances are that McCarthy will eventually be laid to rest at the hands of some poor innocent slob" who would "get a gun and blast Joe to Hades."

The case is still pending.

Expert Finds Little Change in Students

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Rose Fallenstein, who ought to know, believes there's little difference between the college boys of the 1920's and those of today.

Miss Fallenstein has been at the job feeding college males for 34 years before she retired recently as supervisor of food service and dormitories at Washington University here.

There have been a lot of changes in the physical phases of campus life, Miss Fallenstein said, but the male students are about the same.

"They're just like college boys have always been—hungry," she commented.

Their eating habits haven't changed much. She said that most freshmen have been parent-pampered and are bewildered when they have to make their own choice of food. But by the time they become seniors. they have developed some diet sense.

College food fads bewildered her from time to time, but a little inquiry would turn up reasons for them.

She recalled one instance in the 1930's, about the time Prohibition was repealed. Her college boys suddenly developed a fondness for tomato juice in the morning. She couldn't figure out why and began asking around.

Chou Follows Lead of Soviet On Coexistence

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Premier Chou En-Lai accepting an invitation today for Communist China to attend the Asian-African conference, declared he saw no reason why nations with different forms of government couldn't "coexist in peace."

The conference secretariat said China's formal acceptance came with Chou's praises of the conference as "the first of its kind in history convened to promote goodwill and cooperation among the countries of Asia and Africa."

The talks are to be held in the West Java mountain city of Bandung April 18-24. Acceptances have come also from Thailand, Libya, Afghanistan, Ethiopia, Communist Viet Nam, Iraq and Egypt. A total of 25 countries have been invited.

AEC May Try Lighter Blast

Weather Conditions in Nevada Still Unsettled

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—After three postponements, chances for the opening of the 1955 atomic test series tomorrow morning appeared brighter today because the Atomic Energy Commission has an ace in the hole.

The AEC disclosed yesterday that, beginning tomorrow, it has a "less sensitive" shot ready for detonation in addition to the one which has thrice been canceled since Tuesday.

The original shot was slated to be exploded from a 500-foot tower on Yucca Flat with 1,100 military men in trenches 4,000 yards away.

Continuing cloudiness and high winds aloft, coupled with sprinkles of rain in the Las Vegas area, forced the third postponement last night.

Girl, 7, Forced To Learn To Walk for Third Time

EL DORADO, Kan. (UP) — Not yet seven years old, Shonda Cook has just learned to walk for the third time.

The child was stricken wih polio at the age of 18 months, just when she had become fairly sure-footed. A bone operation shortly after her fifth birthday made it possible for her to learn to walk again.

But another operation became necessary later, and it resulted in her legs being in casts for six weeks. When that ordeal was over, she had to learn for a third time to use her legs.

DUCK MONEY

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—State Fish and Game Superintendent Arroll H. Lamson said a Greenwich woman applied for state aid to help pay a feed bill. He said she started feeding a few hungry ducks and within a month had spent $250 on feed. Lamson took the request "under advisement."

NEA Attacks Ike's School Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Education Assn. today denounced President Eisenhower's school aid program and pleaded for "some genuine instead of token" federal help to give every school child a desk.

William G. Carr, NEA's executive secretary, said the administration measure, keyed primarily to federal aids to state and local financing rather than outright grants, "gives our schools much too little aid and much too much control" by the federal government.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Labor Committee, Carr said of the administration program:

"The purpose of the bill is stated as being 'to provide assistance of a substantial and effective nature.' It will not provide such assistance."

The NEA is a professional organization of educators.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), chairman of the Labor Committee, said that a full day of testimony by Secretary of Welfare Hobby, had failed to change his mind that Eisenhower's plan is "too little and too late."

Mrs. Hobby testified yesterday that the administration program "will enable the American people to form a working partnership using private, local, state and federal dollars to build badly needed schools."

The administration program centers on a plan to assist states and local communities to issue bonds which school districts cannot now sell, either because they cannot find commercial buyers at reasonable interest rates or because they are already fully bonded.

It calls also for a three-year, 200-million-dollar fund for direct aid for school districts which cannot be helped under the bond program.

Panama's Ex-President Will Face Murder Trial

PANAMA (AP)—Ex-President Jose Ramon Guizado must stand trial March 1 on homicide charges in connection with the machine-gun slaying of his predecessor in office, President Jose Antonio Remon.

The National Assembly voted 48-1 to indict Guizado during a four-hour session last night highlighted by an impassioned declaration of innocence from the accused. The Assembly is the only body which can try a president. If convicted, Guizado could be sentenced to a prison term of from 10 to 20 years.

Ex-Secretary Indicted In $95,000 Fund Theft

CLEVELAND (AP) — The grand jury today indicted Miss Mildred H. Charvat, 34, former secretary of the Cleveland Industrial Union Council, on 23 charges of forgery and embezzlement. She is accused of taking $95,000 from CIO union checking accounts over a five year period.

Miss Charvat, in county jail, maintains she did not use any of the money, but gave it to a man. She refuses to name the man.

BRITAIN'S ATOM POWER STATION BEING BUILT. This is one of two atomic piles at Calder Hall power station in England. Is is the first step in Britain's 10-year atomic power program. The first of the 80-feet-high heat exchangers, or boilers, is shown being hoisted into position. There will be four for each pile, and in them steam will be generated to run the plant. Fuel will be natural uranium or slightly "enriched" uranium.

Piano-Makers Seek Secret of Old Time Instrument

By GEORGE N. ALLEN

NEW YORK (NANA) — A unique piano which created a sensation when it was first heard publicly in 1867, and then was lost to the world through a century-long chain of events that puts most mystery thrillers to shame, was heard across the United States Sunday.

The Siena piano, which has the uncanny ability to sound like a variety of instruments, has been hidden away as a royal museum piece, got a piano-tuner arrested as an assassin, was stolen from Italy by the Germans, encased in plaster and buried in the North African desert during World War II. It has been sold for junk a dozen times and had hairbreadth rescues from being smashed and burned by persons who didn't know its value.

Now, rediscovered and reconditioned, it has lost none of its original playing qualities. In the view of experts, this is an event important to the world of music. In the history of musical instruments, the Siena piano is unique. So is its story, for the piano repeatedly came into the hands of its discoverer, only to be discarded by him again and again before he realized it was an instrument he had sought unsuccessfully for 30 years.

THE PIANO WAS FIRST played publicly at the Paris exhibition in 1867. Listeners were startled when colorful Spanish music played on it sounded as though it were being played on a huge "concert grand" guitar. There were gasps of surprise as the Siena piano produced the tones of the harp, organ, lute, harpsichord and cathedral bells.

The instrument is a true piano, one of the first to be made with hammers to replace the harpsichord. It has only a single set of strings and hammers and one keyboard. There are no coupling devices or other means for changing its registration. It produces its different effects without any adjustment.

The secret lies in its sounding board. But that secret was buried with the men who built it in Italy 150 years ago.

After the piano was built in Turin around 1791, it remained unknown until played at the Paris exhibition. The following year, 1868, the city of Siena presented it as a wedding gift to Crown Prince Umberto of Italy.

The Italian royal family kept it as a personal museum piece and curiosity for three-quarters of a century. It was forgotten by the world.

BUT, ABOUND 1900, the king of Italy told Maysay Yanowsky, a concert pianist, of the wonderful piano he owned. The pianist years later told the story to his grandson, Avner Carmi.

Carmi became a piano - tuner, and traveled with Artur Rubinstein and Arthur Schnabel. Between 1925 and 1933 he wrote the Italian king numerous letters asking to hear the Siena piano. Every time he went to Rome during a concert tour he tried to get into the palace.

In 1934 Carmi recognized the king while he was strolling incognito in the streets of Rome. In great excitement he rushed up to ask permission to hear the piano. The king's bodyguards promptly pounced on him, accused him of attempted assassination and threw him in jail. Schnabel got him out.

When World War II began Carmi was drafted into the British army as a truck-driver. His unit was shipped to Africa to clean up the battlefields after Rommel's defeat. A mine-clearing squad one day located a peculiar piano that had been coated with a layer of plaster and had sunk of its own weight into the desert sand. The plaster apparently was intended to protect the wood from the desert climate. Carmi was ordered to take the piano for destruction with other rubbish. The works were clogged and rusted and it would not play.

CARMI REPAIRED IT, however, and turned it over to a traveling camp show. It was still coated with plaster, which was too hard to remove. In the next two years, the paths of Carmi and the piano crossed frequently. But the piano-tuner never heard it played—one of those weird quirks of fate. On one occasion, he asked to hear the plaster piano, to judge his handiwork, but the instrument was padlocked and the key was not available.

Transferred to Italy, Carmi went immediately to the Quirinal palace in Rome to hear the Siena piano. But he was told the German staff quartered there had stolen it along with other valuable art objects.

Back in Jerusalem on leave months later, Carmi's three young children asked him to salvage an old piano they had seen discarded in the street by a junk dealer. The dealer had sold it a dozen times as a curiosity and had it returned to him by irate buyers who could not make it play. It was the plaster piano. When it had finally broken down completely the dealer threw it out for the garbage collectors.

BUT THE INSTRUMENT had been taken to the city dump and the family could not locate it. By this time Carmi was beginning to believe that he and the plaster piano were being thrown together by fate. For his wife told him that his children earlier had had the piano brought home and stored in the cellar, but that the landlord had ordered it off the premises. Once more the piano had been in his possession, only to be discarded.

Shortly after this, Carmi was discharged from the army and opened a piano - repair shop in Jerusalem. The following day, the plaster piano turned up again — brought in by a plasterer who had picked it up as a curiosity. He gave Carmi a deposit for repair charges and left to get some friends to assess the piano's worth.

The plasterer's musical friends were dismayed by the old wreck and advised him to destroy it and save his money. Carmi advised them to wait and see what he could do with it. But the piano's owner demanded his money back, flew into a rage and created a noisy scene, all the while thumping on the piano.

WHEN THE PLASTER began to crack from the force of the blows, Carmi returned the money to get rid of the plasterer quickly and quietly. After he left, Carmi discovered several pieces of plaster had broken off, showing richly carved wood.

He stared incredulously a moment, then pulled more of the plaster off. When he saw the wealth of carving on the old piano, he dived into his papers and produced a photograph of the wonderful Siena piano he had pursued unsuccessfully for 30 years and believed lost forever.

The carving was the same. The old plaster wreck was the famous Siena piano.

Carmi deduced that Rommel had stolen the piano for his African headquarters and had disguised it from his Italian allies with the plaster coating.

Carmi cleaned the plaster off, repaired the piano and made it known in Israel. It was first played there under the patronage of Prime Minister David Ben-Grion.

THE PIANO-TUNER, now 54, wishes to give the piano to the world of music. Carmi has written the piano's history, which will be published in the fall as "The Harp of King David." The title comes from one of the legends surrounding the instrument—and there are many.

David Randolph, lecturer in music at New York University, after listening to the Siena piano, said: "Its ability to suggest the sound of other instruments is startling. Its important long-term value to music, however, is its great suitability for the performance of Mozart, Haydn, Bach and, oddly enough, the completely different school of the modern French impressionists, whose music it produces with wonderful coloristic efforts. It can reproduce such music much more accurately than can the modern piano."

Taxes on Gasolines Top Income Source of States

CHICAGO (UP) — Sales or gasoline taxes were the greatest single source of revenue for three-fourths of the states in 1954, Commerce Clearing House reports.

Twenty-two states relied on sales and use taxes for the biggest fraction of their total tax collections. Thirteen others depended most on Gasoline taxes.

In 10 other states, income taxes were the major revenue producers. Severance taxes topped all others in Texas and Louisiana, and New Jersey's biggest revenues came from vehicle license fees.

Merchandise Supplants Coal As Revenue Leader for C. & O.

CLEVELAND — The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway in 1954, for the first time in its history, earned more from carrying merchandise traffic than from coal traffic, according to the 1954 annual report, being mailed today to shareholders. At the same time C.&O. maintained the position that it has held for the last 30 years as the nation's leading bituminous coal originator.

"This means that today C.&O. earnings rest upon two bases," according to Cyrus S. Eaton, C.&O. chairman of the board, and Walter J. Tuohy, president, who signed the report jointly, and "showed the benefits of C.&O.'s traffic diversification program of recent years."

Future Bright

With its broadened traffic base "giving a desirable stability," Eaton and Tuohy added, "Chesapeake and Ohio" also expects to maintain its leading position in carrying coal. The long-term future of coal, by all standards of reckoning, is bright."

The report notes that 1954 was "another year of profit and progress" for C &O. "Earnings of $5.01 a common share were good, 26 per cent above the average for the previous ten years. The regular $3 annual dividend on common stock and $3.50 on preferred were amply covered," it adds.

Significant in C.&O.'s 1954 record, the report points out, was a marked improvement in working capital and decrease in debt. Working capital, at $40 million, was the "highest year-end balance save one in the company's history." Debt was reduced by $24 million, and no new debt was incurred in the year. Nineteen locomotive units were purchased for cash.

"Signalizing the ending of the tremendous post-World War II improvement program," the report states, "expenditures for capital improvements were only $15 million in 1954 compared with $50 million the year before, $85 million in 1952 and $74 million in 1951."

51 Per Cent Non-Coal

Merchandise traffic revenues of $143 million contributed 51 per cent of total freight operating revenues of $281 million in 1954. In the year, 110 new businesses, from which merchandise freight revenues derive, located on C.&O. lines and the railroad expects to earn $4 million annually from them. In the last 10 years, over a thousand such industries have been helped by C.&O. to locate on its lines, the report says, in six states and in Southern Ontario "in the growing industrial areas along 5,100 miles of track."

Along with growing merchandise traffic, nearly 50 million tons of bituminous were originated from mines on C.&O. enabling the railroad to hold its position as the nation's foremost originator and carrier of bituminous coal, the report states.

"Authorities generally predict a substantial growth in the use of coal during the next 20 years or so," according to the report. The future of coal is bright, it says, because of increases expected in export, and because of growing demand by steelmakers, power companies and manufacturers of chemicals and new metals.

Last year, 42 per cent of the total coal shipped from the United States overseas was C.&O. coal, and the report says that "moving into 1955, export coal has already taken an upturn and a better export year is looked for."

MOTOR OIL STOLEN

Theft of 24 quarts of motor oil from the Borden's Dairy and Ice Cream Co. garage on Olney Ave. was reported to Marion police Wednesday by A. M. Burch, manager. He said the oil was taken from a locked storage room inside the garage. A padlock on the door had been pried off.

Classified Ad Pays Off

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (UP) — A 12-year-old classified ad has paid a $20 dividend to Mrs. Verronica Mascot.

Mrs. Mascot said she recently received an unsigned letter in the mail containing $20, a sum she had lost 12 years ago. The writer explained he had found the money and spent it before he saw her ad in the lost and found column of a newspaper.

"I'm leaving town and want to be square with everyone," the writer concluded.

Highway Cheaters

A spokesman said side access roads, being used temporarily for construction, make perfect exits for "toll jumpers," who shoot on and off the highway without using the interchanges.

But those tho are caught get quite a jolt—they're billed all the way back to the first entrance, which is near New York City.

CLEANS CARPETS, RUGS, FURNITURE; LEAVES LIKE NEW

That's because Blue Lustre brushes into the fabric without sogging or matting it, and removes the dirt without harsh action. What's more, it doesn't leave behind any oily or gummy substance. The foam disappears like soap bubbles blown into the air.

You can clean your furnishings simply, easily and cheaply with Blue Lustre. A half-gallon of concentrate costs only $2.59 and will clean three 9 x 12 rugs.

Who Wants To Be a Goat?

There is going to be an intensive effort by the trucking industry to change Ohio's axle - mile tax structure this year. The pattern of the change sought is beginning to be clear in the 101st General Assembly.

It would eliminate what is called the "third structure tax," meaning the new truck tax based on a weight - distance formula. This would be done in order to offset the impact of "revenge taxes" levied against Ohio truckers by other states.

But it would have to be done at someone's expense — and the goats apparently would be heavy truckers operating inside the state, owners of all types of motor vehicles, including passenger cars, and especially the owners of small trucks.

The grim fact of life in the entire discussion is the fact Ohio voters have authorized a half-billion-dollar bond issue for road - building and someone is going to have to pay for it. It was the original idea that the extra income would come from a statewide increase in gasoline tax plus about 20 million a year from the axle-mile tax.

But the axle-mile tax is producing only 11 million. Whether the 11 million is wiped out entirely, as the trucking industry would prefer, or watered down to the point of being inconsequential, which would be the effect of legislative compromise, someone will have to make up the difference.

If the burden then were shifted entirely to gasoline taxes, an attempt might be made to force out-of-state truckers to pay a special rate on fuel purchased in Ohio and perhaps even to pay taxes on gasoline bought outside the state. But that, too, would violate the principle of reciprocity and give other states an excuse to adopt retaliatory legislation.

If the burden were shared between higher gasoline taxes for all Ohio trucks and higher licenses for all Ohio motor vehicles, it would amount to surrendering the axle - mile tax under pressure from the interstate trucking industry and other states.

This is the issue the 101st General Assembly must thresh out to the best of its ability.

Because of geography, Ohio is the main entrance and exit for interstate trucking moving east and west in the northern half of the United States.

It seemed logical, therefore, to ask interstate and intra-state truckers to pay extra for the heavy - duty roads Ohio needed for their use. It seemed logical to adopt a formula that would collect income in ratio to weight and distance traveled.

It is that formula which has caused all the trouble. The question now is what could be substituted for it that would cause less trouble. The 101st General Assembly will learn in its examination of this problem that there are no ways to get more feathers off the vehicular goose without trouble and that intra-state truckers, owners of light trucks and owners of passenger vehicles also can squawk.

Unionism Without Precedent

It has been dawning on outsiders that the so-called "merger" of the AFL and CIO is not necessarily that at all, but could be the formation of a new kind of unionism in the United States.

If the same possibility dawns on enough insiders of the two great labor organizations and their affiliated unions, there could be a tremendous impact on unionism—vastly greater than the impact of a mere merger.

The point in the merger process outlined at Miami Beach where all this could happen is the drafting of a new constitution for the merged organizations next fall. This will test the vision of the union leaders whose aims and ambitions are at stake in the merger plan.

They could embody in their new constitution, if they chose, a clear declaration that there should come into being in the United States a new kind of labor organization adapted to the unique kind of industrial civilization that has developed in this country.

They could renounce once and for all the Old World class warfare that has plagued producers in this country and left them wide open for the sucker punching of, first, the anarchists and more recently the Communists.

They could draw up the charter of an all-American kind of unionism, serving the welfare of the new classless society that has been made possible in the United States by constitutional recognition that the rights of individuals are greater than the rights of politicians who call themselves "the state"—and that these individual rights are inalienable because they are bestowed by God.

They could state as principles what many enlightened unionists in America have developed as practices—the mutual benefit of cooperation with management, the obligation of producers to share responsibility with managers for the success of enterprise and the responsibility of all the component parts of an industrial society for the society's welfare.

The New World deserves its own concepts of the right and responsibilities of labor. It does not need to make do any longer with shabby makeshifts borrowed from dead and half-dead Old World societies with nothing better to offer their producing citizens but endless class warfare under the manipulation of politicians with personal axes to grind.

Left-Wing Strategists

Senate Clique Plays Politics With Foreign Policy

Conducting the immediate military strategy of the United States in the Far East is increasingly difficult for President Eisenhower because of the needling tactics being adopted by certain "left wing" senators.

Despite the overwhelming vote in the Senate and House two weeks ago which plainly reflected the wish of the country that the handling of such a delicate question as the defense of islands off the shores of China be left entirely to the discretion of President Eisenhower, some of the senators who fought the Formosa resolution are keeping up their guerrilla fight in the press.

The President and his military advisers are anxious not to give the Communist high command details of American military planning in the Far East. But, if some of the senators have their way, military information will be transmitted to the Communists through the press indicating exactly what the United States armed forces will or will not do in the Far East.

Nothing could make the situation more dangerous than to let the Communists believe that Eisenhower is being effectively checkmated by a group of senators and that eventually he will acquiesce in the capture by the Reds of the offshore islands through a failure to assist in their defense.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT has been trying to do is to stabilize the Formosa situation so that a cease-fire could be seriously considered. The surest way to start a war in the Far East is to let the Communists believe they can grab the offshore islands without any resistance. Such a miscalculation can only result in a vigorous defense by the Nationalists and then, if the Communists start using airpower to bomb the Formosa bases used by the Nationalist planes as they go out to defend Quemoy and the Matsu islands against attacks from the air, a war would break out and American forces would surely become involved. A considerable body of Nationalist troops is on the offshore islands now.

There is no mystery about the position in which the United States finds itself in seeking primarily to protect Formosa against air attack. The Communists would never invade Quemoy or the Matsu islands without using airpower, and they would not confine their air attacks to those islands either but would have to go after the bases on Formosa. So, for all practical purposes, the use of American airpower in retaliation or defense is related solely to how the Communists use their airpower and whether or not they limit it to attacks on the offshore islands.

The situation is full of complexities and the delicate problems involved should be left to the commander-in-chief in the White House. It is incredible that any members of Congress should be publicly demanding that the President reveal the defense plans of the United States in the middle of a critical situation that could bring about fighting at any moment.

THE SENATE TOOK cognizance of all the contingencies and voted the President ample power to deal with them.

Some senators who now are asking for more details and "clarification" opposed the recently passed resolution on the ground that the President already had sufficient authority to do what seemed best. Now they question that authority.

The only explanation for the present behavior of the "left wing" senators is that they have allowed partisanship to sway their public statements and that they are trying to embarrass the President for political purposes. The fear was expressed during the last campaign that, if the Democrats won control, they would take advantage of their position to play politics with foreign policy. Many of them, like Sen. George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, are cooperating with the administration, but the needling tactics of a "left wing" group of Democrats is a sample of what a divided government can mean in a crisis.

If the object is to save American lives — and that's the highest purpose for either political party to serve — then such an objective can better be realized by keeping as much military information as possible away from the potential enemy.

Basically the United States is not concerned with any faction in China as such — either the Reds or the Nationalists — but is concerned over the fact that the Chinese Communists are in a state of war with the United Nations, and if they take Formosa they can turn their entire armed force against America troops stationed in Korea.

IT'S IMPORTANT, therefore, to keep as much of the Communist Chinese armies as possible pinned down on the mainland opposite Formosa and to keep them guessing as to what will happen if they attack Quemoy and the Matsu islands.

There are some senators who don't believe in this strategy and, in effect, want to interfere in military operations. This is a peculiar way to act in the midst of a military crisis involving decisions by a man in the White House with Gen. Eisenhower's military experience.

In the Beginning

By TRUMAN TWILL

The way it began was that the space creatures had no way of telling the players without a program when they colonized the earth and they got a little mixed up, that's all.

They found the natives friendly, all right enough, and sent back a report to that effect to their home base. But they were away off base as far as the earth was concerned.

They picked the wrong natives.

That was because the first natives they encountered when they got out of their base ship were 37 African elephants, whom they approached in a friendly manner. The elephants, who were on their way to a water hole, stopped courteously and passed the time of day with the strangers.

By means of signs and noises, the elephants and the space creatures soon were hitting it off like long-lost brothers and sisters. The elephants proved they were in charge of their domain by frightening away various minor creatures that skulked in the underbrush and whipped up a light lunch of tender little top leaves and succulent roots for the visitors.

The visitors, in turn, repaid this hospitality with goodies from their space ship, and that was the beginning of a mutual friendship that was to endure for a long time, although that was not known until weeks later, after the arrival of a large flotilla of space ships bearing thousands of other creatures from the Great Beyond.

Among these were experts who, in less than two shakes of an elephant's tail, so to speak, went to work with the earth creatures to draw up the broad terms of an understanding in language understandable to both parties. It was stated in the understanding that the creatures from the Great Beyond would undertake to furnish on their part everything they knew and possessed if the elephants on their part would cooperate with them to set up a successful colony.

The plan was ticketed for success from the start because the space creatures had everything the earth elephants needed — miracle drugs, tusk cleaners, transportation, skin balm, disintegrators and, of course, the secret of going anywhere they wanted to go in their space ships and thereby getting the jump on everybody else.

One day when a committee of elephants was being taken for a ride to map sites for further colonization, the space creatures asked about the tiny two-legged creatures darting about on the ground in little vehicles on wheels. The elephants explained it as simply as they could.

They told the unearthly visitors that the little things were found all over the earth, except at the too cold end, and were very interesting to watch both at work and at play.

They told the space creatures to beware of the little devils because they were vicious when roused and could be more trouble than an earful of ants.

However, there was nothing to worry about because the creatures from the Great Beyond counted among their possessions a nuclear Flit Gun that could knock over the little things by the zillions with one poof.

So what had begun in a bosky dell in Africa became a new way of life on earth. The creatures from Out Yonder and the earth elephants never forgot their pledge to help each other. They colonized the entire earth and only had to use their nuclear Flit Gun a few times to stimulate the spirit of coexistence.

In the evenings, the earth elephants would reminisce about the old days over a bedtime snack of sedge grass. They liked to remember how things were before their friends arrived to help them open a new era.

But they always ended on the same happy note — that it certainly was a break for them and everything else that lived on the earth that the colonizers were what they were. They could have been tigers, ant-eaters, zebras, pythons, water buffaloes or even those little two-legged things that were so pesky when roused.

Instead, they were elephants, just like the earth elephants, except they had retractable tusks and the power of levitation.

He Needs Your Help.

President Winning Home-Front Battle

By Jay G. Hayden

While developments in the domestic legislative field have been largely obscured by sensational overseas events, consideration of home front measures is well under way and with prospects for acceptance of President Eisenhower's recommendations remarkably good.

It already is fairly safe to predict that the President's score of accomplishment in this first session of the 84th (Democratic) Congress, when fully totaled up, will be higher than in either of his first two years, when Republicans were in control of both houses.

Two startling omens within the week were the House vote of 394 to 4, extending the military draft for a three-year period, and the 20-to-5 count by which the House Ways and Means Committee reported a bill renewing and liberalizing the Reciprocal Foreign Trade Act. Opponents of the draft bill were all Republicans and the reciprocal trade antis consisted of four republicans and one democrat.

The latter result was particularly significant because Republican committee opposition was sufficiently in the sessions of both 1953 and 1954 to defeat the President's proposed liberations of the tariff trading act and restrict its extension to one year.

There are other notable symptoms.

THE TWO PROJECTS most talked about by the Democrats at opening of the session were return to the 90-per-cent-of-parity farm price support, reduced last year, and increase in the individual income-tax exemption, defeated by the Republican house, 210 to 204, with only one Democrat voting "aye." Both of these suggestions have gone wholly aglimmering because committee chairmen in the Senate—Ellender and Byrd have announced against them.

It is fairly certain that the farm laws will remain as is and that the only tax legislation will be continuance of expiring corporation and excise taxes at present rates, as requested by the President.

Until recently also there was loud Democratic outcry against the reduction of Army and Marine Corps personnel called for in the President's military budget. However, after Gen. Ridgway testified against this reduction, Rep. Vinson, Democratic chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, declared squarely in favor of it, with the effect of virtually insuring adoption of the whole military setup as asked for.

A factor contributing to that change of front by the Democrats may have been a statement by Secretary Wilson in closed session of a House-Appropriations subcommittee.

AFTER DEMOCRATIC members of that body had loudly protested reduction of either Army or Marine Corps. Wilson spoke substantially as follows:

"Gentlemen, I am sure that the armed forces as recommended are ample, but I know also that the size of them is something Congress must determine. I should point out to you, however, that if the foot soldier personnel is to be raised as you suggest that determination must be made immediately. Because, to make it effective next July I will necessitate raising the monthly draft call, beginning next April from the present 11,000 to 20,000."

Since that statement not one word has been heard from the House committeemen favoring a bigger army.

Other issues on which the President was defeated last year, but now looking up, are his health plan, limited increase in pay for civilian employes of the government, and statehood for Hawaii.

The health bill was voted down, 238 to 134, with the 1954 opposition consisting of 162 Democrats, 75 Republicans and one independent. Considering that heavy margin of defeat it would be a miracle if the House now should reverse itself, but definitely there has been a marked swing of both Democrats and Republicans toward support of the measure.

In the matter of pay rises, Rep. Murray of Tennessee, Democratic chairman of the Committee on Post Offices and Civil Service, is fathering President Eisenhower's proposal of a 5 per cent average civilian pay raise, substantially like a plan which the Republican house last year rejected, 228 to 171.

A FACTOR THAT MAY help this measure is that the congressmen are planning a pay boost for themselves which might be lost if a quarrel with the President on that general subject should develop.

The obstacle of Hawaiian statehood now, as a year ago, is Democratic insistence on statehood for Alaska in the same basket. A circumstance that may help to keep those two apart is that Hawaii last November went Democratic in a big way for the first time in its territorial history.

The one definitely partisan squabble now looming concerns the Dixon-Yates atomic power plant, but with the Democrats stumped as to how to bring it to an effective showdown vote.

Eye Opening Helps, Too

By MARK DANA

Dr. G. K. Selborne, a London physician, has written an article in a British health magazine trying to help people get out of warm beds more easily on winter mornings, and goodness knows people need all the assistance in this laborious project they can get.

Some people profess that getting up in the morning is the day's hardest chore, although not even this English doctor offers much real benefit. Chiefly, he just says "Get up," as if a stern summons to will power were infallible.

With professional tongue in cheek, the good doctor reminds that the alarm clock should be set as precisely the time to arise — not earlier so that the half-wakened sleeper can dawdle in routing the sandman.

When the bell goes off, "do not panic," he advises; just be philosophical, voicing a self-reminder that this is a brand new day full of hope and promise and pleasant surprises. He doesn't suggest that the day may be dreary, or the surprises may be far from happy ones, but buoyant writers usually take the happy side.

The medical writer isn't keen about a snack just before retiring; a person should wake up hungry, he says looking ahead eight hours, and a hungry person will shell out of bed more readily than a person who raided the icebox at 11 p.m., he purrs nicely.

The rest of his article, which can be taken seriously or with plentiful salt, suggests that a person awakened by a precise alarm clock to a promising day should develop getting-up pep by doing acrobatics in bed, beginning with stretching, and certainly "twiddling the toes" (probably means wiggling them) as an A-1 waker-upper.

Apparently a recumbent toe-wiggler will never, but never, turn over for an additional stolen 20 winks.

Gulf Stream Miracle

We are convinced that the U.N. should switched to Miami and that all operations f world peace should be conducted there. T recent burial of the hatchet by the CIO and t AFL, and the decision to function as "two hear that beat as one" prove the Gulf Stream work wonders. Florida's climate has never had better advertisement than the peace session between Walter Reuther and George Meany.

We are satisfied that if Eisenhower, Zhukov Bulganin, Chou En-lai and Churchill could climb into one-piece bathing suits and meet in a Miami Beach swimming pool, all war threats would fade.

Feudin' an' fightin' are almost impossible in Florida. Husbands and wives have difficulty keeping up routine quarrels, families are reunited on life rafts, and human personalities are changed under tropical skies. It is hard to feel the urge to hate anybody down there. But no miracle performances of the Gulf Stream ever equalled the love scenes between Messrs. Meany and Reuther. These two chiefs and their organizations had been throwing punches at one another for years. We think the merger can be attributed to these factors:

1. Both boys had ocean - front rooms and had won at least two daily doubles at Hialeah.

2. — To have agreed to take second place, Reuther must have won at the dog tracks, too.

3. — Both leaders must have caught a couple of sailfish and been put in good humor by the hotel - pool act in which the swimming pool beauty wrestles an alligator.

Possible Meany diary of conference: "Monday —Got up determined to be tough with Reuther. Tropical skies and rustle of wind in palm trees changed mood completely. On way to breakfast drew up few somewhat stiff demands from Walter, but breakfast was served on sunporch overlooking sea. Birds singing everywhere. Softened my demands. Left for conference somewhat determined to give Reuther a battle, but after stroll along boardwalk I became strangely nonbelligerent."

Possible entry from Reuther diary: "Will fight that Meany guy to a finish. Weather wonderful, track fast, water warm, special bathing beauty contest on beach today. Who wants trouble with anybody!!"

Pierre S. du Pont left around 40 million dollars for the care of public gardens created by him . . . (How much is 40 million in scents?) Forty million for the care of gardens proves that no matter what the hedge clippers, borderedgers and lawnmowers get these days, Mr. du Pont was prepared for it. But, from our own experiences with a modest rural property, we doubt that it is possible to transplant a hemlock, eliminate the rose beetles and get more than one bag of grass seed for that little money.

Forty million dollars should leave a hollyhock without a worry in the world and, for the first time in history, provide Social Security and Old Age pensions for orchids.

Joe McCarthy has bought a farm . . . (Specializing in "leeks"?) We will wager he will shoot any cow named "Bob." . . . . There should be fun the day Joe tries to find out why the red cow doesn't give more milk and the critter shows up with counsel.

Henry Fonda is endorsing a bottled beer on TV and we keep thinking of him in a show called "PINT of No Return" or "The Stein Mutiny."

Tyrone Power does a swell impersonation of Marty Maher, in "The Long Gray Line," but we think there should be a football interlude in which West Point plays the Abbey Theater Eleven . . . And how about a scene where a general decorates a leprechaun?

Wanna make more money? Get the concession to sell spirits of ammonia at Broadway's new thriller "The Desperate Hours." This drama has boosted the sale of inside doorlocks 50 per cent and scared people to a point where even the gas-meter inspector can't get in without a struggle.

FCC refusal to permit coin-in-slot TV at this time may mean commissioners have been watching the programs and come to conclusion the public shouldn't be charged for those appeals "act now before the supply runs out," and "Get your 25 word box-top slogan in today."

Way Cleared To Hear Case Against State

Ohio Supreme Court Denies Move To Block Wood County's Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Supreme Court has cleared the way, despite objections of state officials, for a Wood County court to hear a case in which the state is charged with illegally collecting funds.

Wood County Prosecutor Robert A. Fries prompted the court action in his home county.

Fries filed action in Judge Earl K. Solether's common pleas court, asking return or credit for money collected by Ohio for persons committed from Wood County to state institutions.

He named as defendents State Auditor James A. Rhodes, State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy and the late Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher.

State officials asked the high court for a writ of prohibition barring Judge Solether from continuing with the suit. Supreme Court judges denied the writ.

The Supreme Court judges yesterday also refused to review two cases appealed from Mahoning County court decisions. Decisions they let stand included:

An order directing the city of Campbell, near Youngstown, to pay the City Asphalt and Paving Co. $6,764 due on a 1953 contract for streetcoating.

A decision giving Alexander W. Zukoski a new trial in his suit against Tom's EIRESS, Inc., Zukoski was injured in the collision of his auto and a company truck in Boardman Twp. Dec. 4, 1952.

The high court let stand an appellate court order allowing Springfield Yellow Cab Co. to use the word "yellow" in its name and denying its use to Circle Cab Co.

The appeals court had reversed a lower court ruling that held for Circle.

The Supreme Court judges accepted for review an appellate court decision allowing picketing by United Mine Workers of America, seeking to bring into their union workers for Joe Dudek, strip coal miner near Crabapple, Belmont County.

The appeals court overturned a common pleas court ruling which gave Dudek an injunction against picketing, based on grounds of use of force and violence by the union.

INVITING DISASTER. A floating cake of ice is used as a playground by three youngsters and a pet dog after bright warm sunshine thawed ice on Jamaica Bay in New York. The youngsters ignored the danger involved in such a pastime, a matter doubtless brought to their attention by their parents after publication of a picture in New York papers.

Disc Jockeys End Plug for Recording

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two disc jockeys and the record "Shtiggy Boom" ended their publicity marathon yesterday after more than 58 hours.

Bill Elliott and Bill Stanley, staff announcers at radio station WNOE gave up after spinning the record 1,349 times and treated themselves to shaves, showers and sleep.

The marathon was started when WNOE went on a 24-hour schedule, broken only by commercials, newscasts and race broadcasts.

Claims Divine Vision

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Emilia del Carmen Levia, who says the Virgin Mary has appeared to her over and over again in a vision, has received mountains of gifts and thousands of pesos. Hundreds of persons have formed pilgrimages to San Cayetano, the town where she lives in northwestern Argentina.

Enrollment at Ohio U. Increased by 18 Per Cent

ATHENS, O. — Ohio University's spring semester enrollment stands at 5,020, an 18 per cent year, Registrar Robert E. Mahn reported today.

The present enrollment compares with 5,238 students on campus during the recently completed first semester. The enrollment a year ago was 4,130 and two years ago this spring was 3,700, or 26 per cent less than the present figure.

The current enrollment includes approximately 3,200 men and 1,800 women.

SEEK PEACE SIGNATURES

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China is collecting signatures on petitions opposing atomic weapons and a broadcast today said that 1¼ million residents of Peiping — just about everyone old enough to write — had signed within three days.

Are Fat People Really Funny?

No, being fat is no joking matter and it doesn't help your disposition either. If you are overweight put yourself in the shoes of Mrs. Leona Cass, 3215 E. 4th St., Dayton 3, Ohio who writes: "I weighed 175 lbs. when I first started using Rennel Concentrate a short time ago. I just want to let you know that I think Rennel is a wonderful product. Since taking Rennel my weight has dropped to 152 lbs. and I am never troubled with bloat as I had been before."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves — if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on Rennel.

LIQUOR SALES DECLINE

Man in Clinton Is Convicted of Ringing Tree

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—One of the wealthiest landowners in Clinton County has been convicted of an old crime—chopping a ring around a valuable tree.

Elon Farren, 77, of Rt. 1, Wilmington, was found guilty yesterday by a common pleas court jury of maliciously injuring a maple tree in Sugar Grove Cemetery.

The tree is located near a mausoleum which Farren built. It houses the remains of his two wives, a brother and a sister. He claims a tree limb fell against the front of the mausoleum about 7½ years ago, that another limb fell on the roof about four years ago, and that the maple threatens to fall and damage the structure.

Judge Charles R. Kirk withheld sentence pending appeal. Maximum penalty for the offense is a fine of $25 to $500 and a jail term not exceeding 30 days.

The defense presented no testimony. Farren's attorneys claimed the Revised Code of Ohio does not make the charge for which he was indicted an offense against the state.

Mrs Henry Hague II, cemetery secretary and wife of the cemetery superintendent, testified she tried to stop Farren from girdling the tree with the ax last October. She said he threatened her with the ax and then continued to chop away.

Merchant Aids In Wedding of Young Lovers

MCALESTER, Okla. (UP) — A local hardware store owner, Harrace Collier, is fast becoming popular in launching marriages.

Collier has twice turned his store into a wedding chapel, complete with altar and potted plants. He has encouraged local merchants to join him in showering the couples with household gifts, including kitchen equipment, linens and groceries.

The 56-year-old merchant said he started his novel practice one day when an engaged couple were in his store discussing their coming marriage.

Collier asked where they were going to get married, and the young man replied that they were undecided. They couldn't afford a big wedding.

"Why not have the ceremony here?" the businessman said.

Collier said now they have a baby and a happy home, and he feels that the sense of security given them by the help from the merchants has been an important factor in putting the marriage on a firm foundation.

Collier believes struggling young couples faced with modest salaries and spiraling living costs need some help in setting up housekeeping.

He said he has drawn no criticism from local churches. Collier's main problem is finding room for the crowds that attend the weddings.

"Anybody who wants to come is welcome," he said, "as long as they bring a household gift of some kind."

PRIZED FIGHTERS

LONDON (INS) — Hundreds of teams compete in firefighting contests on British railways, the time being measured to the fraction of a second, and the winners rewarded with elaborate prizes and trophies.

School Spans Trail

KECHI, Kan. (UP) — A new grade school arising in a suburban development won't be named, as some pupils suggested, after Hopalong Cassidy or Roy Rogers, but the name will have a western flavor.

It will be called the Chisholm Trail School. The building is believed to be squarely on the old Texas-to-Kansas cattle trail.

Relief Appearance

PRATT, Kan. (UP) — When Don Stevens' fiancee, Carolyn Kaier of Wichita, became ill with the flu, he substituted for her at a shower given by a group of local women.

He attended the otherwise all-female party, opened the gifts and, as the hostess described it, "graciously stayed through the tea hour and what would have been a reception for Miss Kaier."

Boston's Pi Alley Made Official by City's Action

BOSTON (AP)—Williams Court became Pi Alley officially yesterday—but few will notice the change.

The narrow alleyway in the heart of Boston's newspaper row has been known as Pi Alley almost since the first printer dumped his galley of pied (jumbled) type into its dingy recesses.

The block long lane—which begins where the Post and Globe face each other across Washington Street—has long borne the sign "Williams Court" and beneath it the jumbled spelling "(Pie Alley)"

But no more The Public Improvement Commission authorized the switch yesterday.

FILES FOR PASSPORT

BUCYRUS—Mrs Patricia Eicher Ralph Bucyrus has filed an application here for a passport to Europe. She is the wife of Lieut John E Ralph, a Bucyrus native who is stationed at present in Germany with the 388th Fighter Bomber Group. The group will be moved in the near future to France. Mrs Ralph accompanied by their small daughter, Cynthia Lynn, plan to leave New York City by plane March 20 and remain with her husband during his overseas duty.

CLOROX
DISINFECTS DEODORIZES BLEACHES REMOVES NUMEROUS STAINS
CLOROX CLOROX
CLOROX-clean bathrooms and kitchens are always guest-ready!
When you entertain, you'll be proud of your Clorox-clean bathroom and kitchen. For used in routine cleaning, Clorox removes stains... makes surfaces sparkling clean. Clorox deodorizes and kills germs, too. Hundreds of public health departments recommend the Clorox type of disinfection. More helpful hints, and directions, are on the label.
1. Snowy-white linens... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors... Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens... Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes.
5. Sanitary linens... Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.
When it's CLOROX-clean... it's SAFER for family health!

British Cope With Jet Age

Commonwealth Revamping Defenses

By JAMES WICKENDEN

LONDON (NANA) — A globe-girdling force of nations with 500,000,000 population has been newly forged among the members of the British commonwealth to meet the demands and threats of the jet age.

Although the Commonwealth prime ministers who last week closed their meetings here stressed the secrecy of decisions, likening their group to a cabinet, this newly evolved defense picture has emerged.

A main theme of the premiers was to review thoroughly Commonwealth defense, with the stress on practical results. Among the policy decisions was greater sharing by Britain of some responsibilities, particularly in the Middle East and southeast Asia.

With nations from all over the Kingdom, India, Pakistan, the British African colonies, Australia, New Zealand, plus the numerous British Islands and bases in all parts of the world—the conference's search for a defense plan involved sketching supply and attack lines over hemispheres and vast ocean expanses.

THE TRADITIONAL old British reliance on a string of bases around the world has been replaced with plans better suited to the age of high-speed war involving tremendous destruction. The premiers' chief conclusion was that the commonwealth should be fashioned as a band of power, mostly south of the equator, stretching from the Canadian Arctic to the Australian Antarctic.

One reason the change is historic is that the old British empire line running from Britain through the Suez to India and Singapore has been reinforced with another line farther south. Defense developments have demanded this, as the British Suez garrison is moved to Cyprus, India pleads the cause of neutralism, and Singapore has been isolated on Communist China's fringes.

In the new commonwealth system, countries take the place of bases; areas of command replace local garrisons.

Why is this significant for the United States? Because the commonwealth defense planning involves a force often overlooked in world power politics.

FOREIGN office experts here point out that the commonwealth is more than a group of nations tied together by treaty. It has deep roots in both East and West. The countries do not require treaties or elaborate liaison staffs to act as a team.

Secondly, according to these experts, the rapid industrial growth of such commonwealth members as Canada and Australia on the other has steadily increased the organization's strength. The effect, from the commonwealth's point of view, is to create powerful arsenals on both "sides" of the world.

Finally, the official sources strongly emphasize the practical nature of the conference. "The premiers," one official said, "did not come to London to discuss hypothetical issues or principles. They were here on urgent business."

The "urgent business" included such matters as lines of communications, and atomic and other resources the commonwealth members could pool. Further talks, according to the official sources, framed this potential power into three arsenal areas far in the rear of defense zones.

THE STRONGHOLDS are understood to be Canada and Britain, with a forward responsibility in Europe; Pakistan and Africa, with their frontal zone stretching from Suez to Iran; and Australia and New Zealand, with a front enclosing Malaya.

Each grouping is regarded as independent of, but tying in with existing or likely treaties. The Europe bloc is linked with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; the Middle East group with the Turkey-Iraq and Balkan treaty countries, and the southeast Asian group with both the southeast Asia and Anzus pacts.

The commonwealth's boldest conception envisages Africa as a deep defense hinterland of the Middle East, and the alternative to Suez as a line of communication. Official sources indicate how this plan could work. Egypt will be asked to accept South African troops to garrison the canal zone. The British central African colonies would be the link between South Africa, the Aden protectorate and Pakistan. The round-Africa shipping route would be a permanent alternative to Suez to tie together the commonwealth group in Europe and the eastern group in southeast Asia in case of war.

Long Beach Boy Skips Out on Date With Dentist

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Eight-year-old Edward Otis went to a dentist yesterday for his second extraction. Edward didn't like the first one, so just before he was called to the chair, he asked to be allowed to wash his hands.

He didn't return. A missing persons report eventually was filed. Police and his mother Mrs. Elzie Otis feared he had been kidnaped.

Several hours later, however, the boy arrived home, the pain from the bad tooth aggravated by sore feet. He had walked six miles.

PUNCHES THROUGH WINDOW

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Louis Smith, 60, became angry yesterday when he saw a peeping Tom looking in his window. He threw a punch. The peeper is still loose but Smith wound up in the hospital getting his arm stitched. The window was closed.

PTA Activities

Founder's Day was observed by the Pearl Street School PTA at its meeting Tuesday night at the school. A report on founder's day activities was given by Mrs. John Uncapher, and Miss Margaret Seiter gave a talk on highlights of the PTA. The first parents and teachers group organized in Marion was started in the south section of Marion about 40 years ago, she related. In 1915, a mother's club was started at the old Lincoln school building. In 1916, the meetings were first held at Pearl Street School and it was in 1917 that men were first admitted into the organization.

Past presidents of the Pearl Street PTA were honored and presented corsages. Those present included Mrs. Henry Kraner, Mrs. J. E. Oliphant, Mrs. James Frew, Mrs. Paul Emery, Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Mrs. Ellis Wilson, Mrs. LaVerne Pfeiffer and Mrs. George Howser.

For the program, parents and teachers were divided into discussion groups of their child's grade level. Leaders included Mrs. James McNoldy, first grade; Gene White, second grade; Norman Fogt, third grade; Miss Helen May, fourth grade; Arthur Haas, fifth grade; Mrs. J. F. Maxwell, sixth grade.

To open the meeting, members of Den 1, Pack 14, Cub Scouts of the school, conducted a flag ceremony. Mrs. Pfeiffer conducted devotions reading scripture from the sixth chapter of Deuteronomy and discussing the theme "The home is the basis for the life of a child, family, religion and community."

Special music included two mellophone numbers by June Russell, sixth grade pupil, and two flute selections by Linda Kochensperger. Both were accompanied by George Lane, music instructor in the school.

John Guthrie presided for the meeting and named to served on the nominating committee were Mrs. John Lightner, chairman, Edward Baxter and Miss Clara Alice Wilson.

Miss Wilson, principal, gave a talk concerning the Pearl Street Student Council project, "I Am Courteous Campaign." She also announced a special basketball game to be held in March at Taft Junior High School for benefit of the school patrol.

The attendance award went to Miss Catherine Turner's third grade room. Refreshments were served with the social committee in charge.

It was voted to send four members to the PTA Central District Council meeting which will be held in the near future at Harding High School when Oak Street PTA met Tuesday night at the school.

Melvin Bernow, school principal, reported on a recent welfare meeting he attended and the group voted to donate $5 to a shoe fund for needy school children. Slides on "Progress Report on Marion City Schools" were shown by Bernow.

The Harding High School German band, composed of Craig Anderson, Chuck Kaelber, Melvin Truex, Larry Walters and Roger Ward, played several numbers. Miss Marie Johnson's second grade room won the award for the largest number of parents present.

A thank you note was received from Cub Scout Pack No. 55 for a $25 donation which it received from the PTA to help get it started. Refreshments were served by third and fourth graders with Mrs. John Hicks as room mother.

Weddings

The chapel in St. Paul's Methodist Church in Monroe, Mich. was the setting for the wedding of Miss Diane McAninch and Arthur Eugene Kent of Mansfield, Tuesday, Jan. 25. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don W. McAninch of 106 Lind Ave., Mansfield, former residents of Marion, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Kent of 166 Marion Ave., Mansfield.

Palms and lighted tapers decorated the chancel for the 1:30 o'clock ceremony read by Rev. Arthur Keontz.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Spayde of Mansfield. Mrs. Spayde was costumed in a red velvet suit and wore black accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations. Miss Pauline Kent, sister of the bridegroom held the rings on a white Bible. She wore a light blue dress and a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was at the home of the bride's parents where a buffet supper was served to 50 guests. Centering the table was a three-tiered cake. The miniature bride and bridegroom topping the cake had been used on the anniversary cakes of the bridegroom's maternal and paternal grandparents who celebrated their golden weddings in the past two months. Yellow roses and white wedding bells completed the decorations.

The bride was graduated from Mansfield Senior High School last year and is a reporter in the society department of the Mansfield News-Journal. The bridegroom, also a graduate of the Mansfield High School last year, is in the U. S. Navy.

Guests attending the wedding were from Little Rock, Ark., Bellaire, Mich., Mansfield, LaRue, Marion, Butler and Olivesburg.

The bride's family lived on Willow St. before leaving Marion three years ago.

The wedding of Miss Barbara Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Miller of northwest of LaRue, and Raymond Rhodes of Wheeling, W. Va. took place Friday evening. Rev. H. C. Long, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Waldo officiated for the ceremony, in the parsonage.

The attendants were Miss Irma Gibson of Marion and Hank Temple of Wheeling, W. Va. Present for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barkley, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, and son Bobby of Waldo, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Golda Cochran, aunt of the bridegroom, and Joe Albert of LaRue, Miss Evelyn Herr of Meeker and Joe Temple of Wheeling.

Rockefeller Speaks To Canton's Urban League by Phone

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Using a last-minute telephone hookup, Winthrop Rockefeller, associated in philanthropic and civic activities, addressed a banquet last night of the Canton Urban League, a group devoted to Negro advancement

Rockefeller, who spoke from New York, had been aboard a Canton-bound airplane that had to turn back after weather conditions prevented landing at the Akron-Canton, Colmbus, Cleveland or Pittsburgh airports

A special amplifier system enabled Rockefellers' voice to be heard clearly by 300 persons who attended the banquet

A director of the urban league, Rockefeller said the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in schools will bring about the most important changes in Negro status in recent times

"I have confidence that the desegregation will work out," he declared He added

"It is important that the transition takes place as rapidly as possible But it will take time. Resistence will not be wiped out overnight"

Rockefeller asserted that World War II "accelerated closer relationship between the two races more than anything in a century"

More Smaller Colleges Advocated by Educator

HAVERFORD, Pa (UP)—More small colleges in more communities instead of enlarging present institutions to take care of swelling enrollments was called for by Dr Gilbert F White, president of Haverford College, in his annual report.

"A complex organization of personnel counselors, psychiatrists and deans" is no substitute for the "understanding and affectionate acceptance" of a small college where individual problems are widely recognized and shared, he concluded.

MODERN WEAPONS DOOMING WORLD'S BATTLSHIPS. Battleships appear doomed to oblivion by their own limitations. Research has shown that somewhere, just beyond the horizon at the moment, is a new type of sea warcraft that can measure up better to modern demands. The necessity for warcraft that can carry guided missiles and have greater maneuverability was stressed at a recent session of the House of Lords in London by Lord Carrington, Parliamentary Secretary. He stated: "We are on the threshold of new developments in the use of guided weapons in sea warfare." It was conceded that converting battleships to such a purpose would be too expensive. Since the Battle of Jutland in 1916, they have decreased in both numbers and power. Shown above are reproductions of the world's battleships of the last generation, many of which have figured in historic sea engagements.

Paul F. Snider, Former Marion Resident, Dies

Paul Francis Snider, about 50, formerly of Marion, died yesterday at Columbus where he had made his home a number of years. His mother, Mrs. Alma I. Snider, lives at 247 S. High St. here.

School Vocational Conference Given BPW Club Backing

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club will share in the vocational conferences set for March 30 for Marion high school students, contributing both to finances and to the list of speakers as in previous years. Patricipation in the event was approved at a BPW meeting last night at the YMCA. Miss Clara Alice Wilson presided.

Members voted also to co-operate in financing a project of the Marion Inter-Club Council following a report on that organization's meeting given by Miss Wanda Geddis, a representative of BPW to the council group.

Announcement was made by Miss Janet Geddis of the annual meeting for March 2 at Hotel Harding. The speaker will be Mrs. Lila Black of Columbus, assistant to the Ohio state attorney general.

Listed as new members were Mrs. Sylvia Pfeiffer and Mrs. Corah Weber, and total membership of 85 was reported.

Serving on the hostess committee were Miss Evelyn McCormick, Miss Margaret Messenger, Mrs. Gloria Miley, Miss Mary K. Miley, Mrs. Clara Miller, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Mary Musser, Capt. Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army, Mrs. Barbara Norris, Mrs. Verna Osborn and Mrs. Arlene Yarian.

SCHARER NAMED SECRETARY

Ronald Scharer, a member of the Marion agency of the Ohio State Life President's Club, has been chosen secretary of the Ohio State Life President's Club, it was announced in Columbus today. The club is composed of the company's top producers.

Police, Sheriff Report Three Minor Accidents

One minor accident was reported by sheriff's deputies today. Police reported two mishaps on city streets, both involving damage of less than $100, while state patrolmen from the Marion post reported no accidents in the last 24 hours.

The sheriff's office received a report of an accident at 7:45 p.m. on Emerson Ave. A car driven by Mrs. Lucille R. Rizer of Toledo struck a hole in the street and careened into a parked car owned by Charles E. Brumfield, 30, of 946 Bryant St., deputies said.

The left front end of Mrs. Rizer's car was damaged while the right fender of the parked car was damaged.

Rebuilt Organ Dedicated By Forest Lawn Church

A recital of music to dedicate the newly reconstructed pipe organ at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church was heard by the congregation Sunday afternoon. Groups of numbers were presented by the church organist, Mrs. Rollin Montgomery and by a guest, Mrs. J. W. Baker of Calvary EUB Church.

The pipe organ, given originally to Forest Lawn Church by First Presbyterian Church in 1925, was rebuilt by a Lima pipe organ company. Retaining the old, seasoned wooden pipes, the workmen installed a new bed and electric action unit. A new console and decorative pipes were added.

Nehru on Spot

By George Sokolsky

In the great welter of news from all parts of the world, items are missed which are of tremendous importance. This is one I missed.

SOKOLSKY

On December 4, 1954, it was reported by the (Exchange) Telegraph from Delhi that India had a plan to neutralize Formosa. The report said that Prime Minister Nehru of India was seeking diplomatic reactions to a proposal that Chiang Kai-shek be removed and that Formosa be taken over by an international commission of neutral powers.

"The proposal carries an offer by India to serve on the commission and provide custodian troops for an agreed period, possibly of from 3 to 5 years. The Indian plan calls for a plebiscite at the end of that period to decide whether Formosa should be handed over to Communist China or remain under the administration of a neutral commission.

"The (Exchange) Telegraph correspondent says India has reason to believe that Communist China is favorably disposed to the plan provided that Britain and America are not represented on the proposed commission."

IT IS NOT KNOWN what has become of this proposal. In British circles it is reported that Nehru has had a change of heart and is no longer as pro-Communist China as he formerly was. At any rate, the suggestion that a neutral commission consisting of India, Poland and Sweden take over Formosa has been bandied about.

It is interesting that, as this suggestion goes, the Soviet universal state has one representative on it, Poland, but the United States has none. Yet the United States is the principal factor in the Formosan situation, more important than Chiang Kai-shek and his government who now are creatures of and dependent upon the United States.

If Indian troops occupy Formosa what is to become of Chiang Kai-shek's army there? Is there to be a war between Indian troops and Nationalist Troops?

How is Chiang Kai-shek to be removed? Will they carry him out of his office the way Sewell Avery was? Will they put him in a bamboo cage and ship him to Chou-En-lai and Mao Tzetung?

What will happen in Formosa while the Indians are removing Chiang Kai-shek? My guess is that if anybody tried it, there would be such a massacre as has never before been witnessed. Again, the racial question will arise.

Whereas to many Americans and Europeans all the peoples of Asia are alike, to a Chinese, a Hindu is a very different kind of person and one not favorably thought of. And it is also true vice versa.

THERE IS ANOTHER point here: If the Nehru idea were to be considered seriously, what would become of the treaty just ratified by the Senate between the United States and Formosa? Does not that treaty obligate the United States to defend Chiang Kai-shek and his government? Would the United States have to go to war with India over Nehru's proposal?

In a word, here is another confusing factor in an already chaotic situation that could lead to war. Nehru may have changed his mind about all this, as the British say he has, but the fact that he could entertain this notion as recently as last December indicates that important statesmen felt free to devise means to eliminate the United States from the Western Pacific. For that is what the Nehru proposal in essence meant.

If Nehru has changed his mind, it is only because Communist China is growing so strong that it is frightening its friends. In the Soviet universal state, whatever progress has been made in territorial expansion since 1949 has been made by Red China and not by Soviet Russia. This cannot have gone unnoticed in the Kremlin.

IT WAS NO ACCIDENT that the Indian government discovered maps issued by the Red Chinese government making parts of India as Chinese. This is the ancient Chien Lung line, the farthest progress that the Manchu conquerors made in their approach to India. The map includes Nepal, Assam, Bhutan and a corner of Kashmir as Chinese.

Neither Nehru nor the Kremlin could have been happy about those maps which were indicative of Red China's imperialistic thinking.

This discovery may have helped Nehru change his mind about Formosa. But whatever his opinion may be on the subject, he has not yet indicated that he is averse to Indian troops occupying Formosa and removing Chiang Kai-shek.

Racket Expose

By Victor Riesel

The mobs have killed men for a lot less than a slice of a six or seven billion dollar business.

I refer to the union welfare and pension fund business over which a civil war is brewing inside labor. The mob has been taking hundreds of thousands of dollars a year out of these funds — and a group of national AFL leaders have now said publicly they're going to tear the lid off the racket.

VICTOR RIESEL

I'm delighted to help — especially since it was four years ago in this column that the first story of the underworld's looting of something called welfare and pension funds was printed.

This will be a difficult fight and it may be that I'm counting myself in on an overmatched bout. You see, even the government has found that no one really knows the full extent of the welfare and pension fund "industry."

A SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE, after almost a year of probing, finally had to say that it has traced only some five billion dollars worth of annual payments by companies into these funds — but that to this figure "must be added a considerable amount."

This additional money comes from workers' contributions — we don't know just how much more, but it must run into the millions, since there are over 11¼ million workers covered by such funds.

Furthermore, there really aren't sufficient financial records kept to tell us what the full scope of these multi-billion dollar funds truly is.

A House of Representatives Labor sub - committee said not too long ago that it did not find "... official records to indicate accurately the total number of welfare and pension funds now in existence, the cost of these plans, the actual amounts paid to employes who are entitled to benefits, or the moneys accumulated in the reserves and surpluses of the funds involved...."

What we're being told is that nobody knows what's happening to many hundreds of millions of dollars that rightfully belong to the working guy and his wife and children.

FROM WHAT WE DO know we have been able to learn that at least $127,475,757 was paid in welfare fund premiums during 1952 fiscal year. This went up to $136,798,067 in premiums in 1953. We have no full figures on the multi-billion dollar pension funds which are to make old age retirement easier for the man who worked hard all his life.

The commissions received by hundreds of agents in 1953 on welfare fund insurance alone came to $4,762,872. There was another $1,303,318 in fees and allowances that year — whatever that means.

I want to re-emphasize here that these figures are only on welfare fund insurance. The bulk of the other billions are in old age pension fund insurance, on which the statistics must be fabulously greater in total.

How much of this was handled by honest men? How much was looted? Nobody knows.

A SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE under Sen. Irving Ives reported that it picked only 29 funds in Philadelphia, Chicago and San Francisco because only "fragmentary data were available concerning the establishment and operation" of welfare and pension funds in the country. The report said that these 29 were a "mere fraction of the several thousand welfare plans presently operating throughout the U.S."

We don't know much about the others. But what about the 29, which may or may not be representative? Some were well operated. Most were not. We have no names here. The Senate sub-committee, which appears to believe in full exposure, just used code numbers in its public report. How this code curtain helps the cause I don't know.

But in one fund $136,000 disappeared in checks of $500 to $10,000, mostly made out to "cash," whoever he is.

In another fund $17,000 was missing. In another operation one business agent drew a salary and lived mostly in Florida. Under another the policy was taken from one broker and given to another so $14,000 could be made in commissions for a friend.

The impression is that the employer trustees just look the other way while the looting goes on. All of which is a ghastly betrayal of the working guy by both sides.

Some funds give the union member a $500 life insurance policy. Well administered funds cover the working Joes with $2,000 to $20,000 policies.

SOME FUNDS COVER a toiler for only 10 days of sickness. The good ones cover him for as long as 52 weeks in some cases.

Some give hospital and board for a meager 21 days; others hand out complete medical service and surgery benefits so a sick or injured working man can rest easy knowing his family won't have to hock itself for life because he was hurt.

Some old age pensions run a few dollars a month. Others give 60 per cent of the worker's average earnings over the past 10 years.

That's why it's important to rive the ghouls from the shoulders of the country's working people. The mobs must not make money out of the human drive for security.

Transatlantic Telephone Line To Be Completed in Late 1956

NEW YORK (UP) — The first trans-Atlantic telephone cable is now being constructed and its installation should be completed next year. It is scheduled to be in operation by Christmas, 1956.

The aim is trans-Atlantic telephone calls of clear and constant quality, instead of the present "hit-or-miss" system dependent on good radio conditions. More than twice as many simultaneous conversations will be possible under the new system.

Need for the cable is evidenced by the increasing traffic. In 1927 there were only 2,000 calls; in 1951 there were nearly 100,000.

The new communications system is a cooperative project of Britain's General Postoffice, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corp. It will provide 36 telephone circuits between Oban, Scotland, and Clarenville, Nfd., with Sydney Mines as the terminal on the Canadian mainland.

It will require the laying of two undersea cables, each 1,950 (nautical) miles long, and of a 335-mile single cable, part on land and part under water. One hundred and eighteen repeaters, or boosters, containing 300 valves and 6,000 other electrical componenets, will amplify the sound at regular stages along the route so the voice will be as clear at the outcoming as at the ingoing end.

The discovery by Imperial Chemical Industries in 1933 of a substance named polythene, and the application of this as an insulant, helped pave the way. Polythene has certain advantages over gutta percha and paragutta, formerly used to insulate submarine cables, and is considered to be ideal for this purpose.

The cable now being made will use 1,400 tons of polythene. It also will require, for its 1,950 - mile length, some 2,700 tons of copper, 11,000 tons of steel wire, 1,800 tons of jute yarn, and 2.4 million yards of cotton cloth.

Britain will pay 41 per cent of the cost of the $35,000,000 project, the United States 50 per cent and Canada 9 per cent.

The cable will weigh three tons per nautical mile, and must be sufficiently strong and flexible to withstand pressures of up to three tons per square inch, and the pounding of breakers at the shore line.

To construct such a cable, a new five-acre plant had to be built in England on the Thames at Erith. It will employ over 200 technicians and workers and will be capable of producing 4,000 miles of cable a year.

The present contract, which is for the greater part of the Scotland-Newfoundland trans - Atlantic stretch, is worth $14,000,000.

Another problem that had to be solved before the telephone hook-up could be planned was the development of suitable boosters to amplify the sound at regular intervals along the line.

Here, the partnership between the United States and Britain proved its value. The British, who had experimented for years with co-axial cables and had laid them successfully between the Isle of Man and Anglesey and across the North Sea to Norway, had concentrated on shallow - water repeaters.

These had the advantage of being large enough to carry two-way speech transmitters but the disadvantage of being housed in large, rigid steel containers.

The Americans, on the other hand, had turned their energies to the development of deep-water repeater housings, and Bell Telephone laboratories had evolved and laid between the United States and Havana cables with boosters housed in an ingenious type of flexible container resembling a steel snake, which may be coiled inside storage tank drums.

At shore ends and on the shorter shallower stretch between Newfoundland and Canada, the British repeaters are to be used; elsewhere, the American type. A voltage of about 3,900 volts will be required to feed the boosters on the main crossing.

There is only one ship in the world capable of laying such a length of cable, HMS Monarch, the General Post Office's cable-layer. Even this vessel has had to have the bow and stern sheaves enlarged for the job to a diameter of seven feet.

The whole of the first 1,500-mile deep-water section will have to be laid in a single operation without pause, for the cable may buckle if the cable ship has to stop during the laying. For this reason it must be done in summer, when a two-week stretch of consecutively good weather is a possibility.

The first cable will, therefore, be laid this coming summer; the second in the summer of 1956.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Four drivers were fined a total of $60 and costs on traffic charges in Marion Municipal Court Wednesday. Each of the fines was $15 and costs.

The drivers and charges were: C. W. Seckel, 65, of Caledonia, driving left of center; H. W. Hirneise, 38, of 330 Park St., reckless driving; James J. Conway of Columbus, reckless driving, fine and costs suspended; and Roy R. Hobson, 35, of near Marion, failure to heed stop sign.

District Traffic Cases

Three persons were arrested Wednesday outside of Marion County by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Fined $10 and costs each were Leo S. Ensalaco, 51, of Dunkirk, on a charge of passing over a yellow line; Edward Ousley, 28, of McArthur, defective muffler; and Robert Geyer, 22, of Crittenden, N. Y., unsafe operation.

They appeared before Mayor Emery Murphy of Mount Gilead.

Juvenile Court Cases

Three youths appeared in Juvenile Court Wednesday on traffic violation charges. Two of them had their driving rights restricted for 90 days, while the third was fined $25 and costs.

Robert Norris Jerew, 17, of near Richwood and William Robert Carey, 17, of near Marion were both ordered to drive for business purposes only unless accompanied by their parents for the next 90 days. Both admitted charges of driving left of center.

A 17-year-old Marion youth was fined $25 and costs when he admitted a charge of driving with no operator's licence. In addition to the fine, he was ordered to secure a driver's license within 60 days.

No More Complaints

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garringer have stopped complaining about the hot weather.

An explosion believed caused by gas in the basement shook their home but the Gasringers and their two small children escaped injury.

End of Strike

BAD AXE, Mich. (AP)—In protest to his arrest on charges of non-payment of alimony, 30-year-old Leo R. Bolda went on a hunger strike.

But on the ninth day Bolda, who had lost 17 pounds, ordered a couple of eggs. Then he stowed away a dinner of meat loaf, mashed potatoes, gravy, baked beans, peas, bread and butter.

Strange Coincidence

MUSCATINE, Ia. (AP) — A check of letter cancellations here for August, 1954, has spurred Muscatine Postoffice employes to find one more letter writer. The August check turned into a re-check when it was discovered the total—236,220 letters—was the same as for August, 1953.

Special Prize

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The school board has asked for new bids from milk companies to supply milk to the schools. Low bid was 26 cents a quart. The same grade milk can be purchased in stores — which are conducting a milk price war — for 20 cents.

Yearly Meeting Held by Local Livestock Unit

Annual meeting of the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association was held Wednesday night at the Pleasant School. Reports were given by market officials on activities of the last year.

Included in the reports was one by James Smoot, manager of the group's local market.

Others were given by experts from Columbus including Howard Davidson who spoke on the swine market, H. M. Leitnacker who spoke on the cattle market, and Walter Findlay who spoke on the sheep market.

Robert Shannon, president of the Columbus Producers Livestock Cooperative, showed color slides and explained the swine improvement program now being carried out in Ohio.

C. L. Harrison, chaplain of the Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster, was the main speaker. He said men must have desire, determination and dedication in order to succeed in their everyday activities.

Elected to the advisory board of the market for the next two years were Donald Foos, John Hite, Paul Almendinger and Walter Mautz.

L. D. Kingsbury, director of public relations and programs of Producers Consolidated gave a relationship study between the Marion market and other markets in the state.

Smoot told the audience that the local market had had its biggest year in its history.

Wet Heat

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — When they turn water into their new industrial heaters, two inventors here have trouble convincing people they are not trying to burn the water. They superheat steam in white-hot tubes and use it to atomize oil which is the real fuel.

George W. Jackson and Bill G. Daugherty say their method gets more heat out of the oil. They have produced a number of the big heaters and hope to develop one small enough to heat an ordinary home.

Big trouble is, things get so hot in their burners that metals usually put into furnaces won't stand up. For the small heaters they plan to use metals which have been developed for jet engines.

Retires, Boosts Rank

FT. HUACHUCA, Ariz. (AP)—Hugh Stark retired from the Army as a corporal and jumped at once on the retired list to the rank of lieutenant colonel. A veteran of 20 years in the Army, Cpl. (Col.) Stark saw action in the European treater during World War II. On his discharge after the war he resigned his commission and reenlisted in the Regular Army.

Cincinnati Paper Cleared of Libel

Right of Press To Make Fair Comment Is Upheld

CINCINNATI (AP)—The right of newspapers to make fair comment and criticism of public figures won new legal strength from a common pleas court decision which cleared the Cincinnati Enquirer of libel damages

Tom McCarthy who conducts farm and news programs for radio station WKRC, had sued the newspaper for one million dollars, claiming he had been hurt personally and professionally by an editorial WKRC is an affiliate of the Cincinnati Times-Star A common pleas court jury yesterday said in effect the newspaper had the right to make the comments

Fight Over Fluoridation

The editorial, published Feb 26 1953, concerned fluoridation a public health measure supported by the Enquirer Its proponents claim addition of fluoride chemicals into a city's water system aids reduction of tooth decay in children

"By misleading statements, delivered in highly dramatic style Mr McCarthy has aroused widespread fears that fluoridation will raise the total death rate, cause more cancer and augment tooth decay," the editorial said in part "this is by no means the first time Mr McCarthy has set himself against the community's welfare thus drawing momentary attention to himself But it is perhaps the least savory of his adventures"

Blasts Commentator

After discussing what it called the facts about fluoridation the newspaper concluded in its editorial

'These are the facts, for those who want the facts The same facts were available to Mr McCarthy But for reasons quite his own he prefers not to limit himself to facts In this case he has done great harm by causing needless fears and by inciting distrust of fully qualified health officials We are certain that most persons in Cincinnati will take the word of local and national medical authorities against the word of a broadcaster whose record of reliability we will let speak for itself The pity is that Mr McCarthy is permitted by station WKRC to continue in a pattern of 'news reporting that victimizes the gullible listener'

Judge Joseph H Woeste told the jurors the editorial in itself was libelous and that it had a natural tendency to injure McCarthy's 'reputation as a newscaster in a way to lessen him in public esteem"

Was 'Fair Comment'

But, he said the jurors could find it was fair comment and criticism and "therefore was privileged under the right of freedom of speech and of the press"

The liberty of the press Woeste said is not inconsistent with the protection due to private character

Liberty of the press, he said, "has been well defined as consisting in 'the right to publish with impunity the truth, with good motives and for justifiable ends, whether it respects government magistracy or individuals' But this liberty cannot be justified when it is exercised to publish libelous matter to the injury of another, unless its truth is pleaded and proved"

He added

'While newspapers as well as others have the full liberty to criticize the conduct and motives of newsworthy persons, and to comment freely on persons in the public eye such comments on such individuals must be fair and legitimate If one goes out of his way to cast aspersions upon the personal character of a newsworthy person, and to ascribe to him base and corrupt motives he must do so at his peril and must either prove the truth' of what he says or answer in damages to the party injured, unless otherwise excused under the qualified privileges of 'fair comment and criticism' or reply

Just Criticism Essential

'Just criticism, though severe may be a great conservator of the character and morals of the people To truthfully and fairly hold up to public view and condemnation conduct that is wrongful and detrimental to the community at large or to social well being is a very useful and important office of the newspaper and the press

"A newspaper has the right, if not the duty to publish as a matter of general information, fair and reasonable comments, however severe in terms, upon any thing or subject which is made by its owner or author, a matter of public interest

'Such comment and criticism however may not follow such newsworthy person into his private life or pry into his domestic concerns It may never attack the individual but only his work"

The court told the jurors 'fair comment of criticism is a complete defense to an action for libel"

Constitutional Rights

Roger H Ferger publisher of the Enquirer, said the newspaper defended the libel suit "in support of the basic principle of our operations—the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press in the free discussion of public issues and persons involved in those issues'

McCarthy said he would appeal the decision He said he had no other comment

The jurors deliberated almost four hours before reaching a verdict, which 10 jurors signed Only nine signatures are needed in a civil case, in contrast to the unanimous agreement required in criminal court Judge Woeste ordered them to ignore the merits or demerits of fluoridation in reaching the verdict

Death Discloses Retired Upholsterer 'Well Off'

ST LOUIS (AP)—Albert F Kersten, a bachelor, has kept occupied by investing his small life savings and playing cards with friends after retiring 25 years ago as an upholsterer

Kersten died last Nov 22 on his 68th birthday An inventory filed in Probate Court yesterday showed he left an estate valued at $154 380 with stocks and bonds the chief assets.

A spokesman at the Lutheran Convalescent home, where Kersten spent the last six years of his life, said no one was aware he was a man of wealth"

$12.500 VERDICT RETURNED

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A common pleas court jury returned a $12 500 verdict yesterday against Sheriff Raymond Woodard and the National Surety Corp which bonds him Joseph P Ayers of near Stow brought suit, contending a special deputy, Jerome A McCarthy of North Canton, attacked him at an industrial plant The law makes the sheriff responsible for actions of his deputies. Ayers had asked $25,000

Kiner, Score To Help

Cleveland To Repeat--Lopez

By AL LOPEZ
Manager, Cleveland Indians

TAMPA, Fla (AP)—I am not in the habit of making predictions but I firmly believe the Indians can repeat this year as American League champions. However, I don't think we or any other club will match our record breaking 111 victories of last year for a very, very long time to come.

I would say we'll win enough to repeat as champions, but a figure like 111 is once in a lifetime.

I expect the Yankees to be stronger this year. Bob Turley ought to help their pitching staff and their infield should be pretty well set when Billy Martin gets out of the Army. It is my guess that he will be the regular shortstop for Billy Hunter doesn't figure to hit much, especially against us.

Added Power

I think we'll be stronger, too. The addition of Ralph Kiner and Herb Score ought to help us in two key departments, long distance hitting and pitching. Kiner gives our lineup balance. With fellows like Larry Doby, Al Rosen, Vic Wertz and Kiner batting in that order, we now have two lefthanded power hitters and two righthanded ones.

We've been trying to get Ralph for a long time. I like him very much. I think he's still a fine ball player. Right now I believe Kiner will hold down left field and Al Smith right field. Anyway wherever Kiner is used, he is bound to strengthen the position because he gives us that extra long ball and you can't have too many of thise.

Ralph had a very impressive home run record in the National League. He is a fine team player and I believe the opportunity of playing with a pennant winner in a stadium well suited for his batting talents will enable him to make some valuable contributions to our cause in '55 and in seasons to come. He is only 32 and always has stayed in good condition.

It has been suggested that I intend to seek revenge on the Giants during our spring training exhibitions for our disastrous World Series defeats. That's not so. We will use spring training to find out how good our kids are. I don't see much possibility of making any deals which would help us so we'll have to look to our youngsters. We'll give Herb Score, the great young pitching prospect from Indianapolis, every chance we can to make good. If he proves up, he'll be used as a regular starter next season.

Hank Foiles is another rookie who will get a full shot at a regular spot. The boy is so impressive he deserves a long look. He is young, strong and very fast. And they tell me he is a fine defensive catcher. His .330 batting average in the American Association can't be laughed off either.

Infield Set

I am well satisfied with my infield. Viv Wertz will be at first base, Bobby Avila, the league's batting champion at second, Al Rosen at third and George Strickland at shortstop. I think Eddie Joost, who signed with us recently as a free agent, will prove very helpful in a utility role. He can fill in at all infield positions except first and he could also make us a fine pinch hitter. He has a good batting eye and can hit the long ball for you.

You know all about our pitching I look for the older fellows to do about the same and for the younger ones, like Don Mossi and Ray Narleski to do even better than last year.

Green Camp Gains 89-71 Win in Tri-County Loop

Green Camp's K of P Lodge team clipped Marion Brick and Tile 89-71 in a Tri-County League game played last might at Green Camp.

The losers went out front 18-16 in the opening stanza but Green Camp came back strong to take a 41-31 halftime edge and hiked their margin to 63-50 at the start of the fourth quarter.

Paul Sheppard pumped in 24 points to top the winners while Dick Poroter and Al Stover each hit for 18. Jerry Criswell finished with 16. Jim Shifflet notched 26 to top the losers. Charlie Rice collected 18 and Gene Craycraft hit for 12.

Green Camp's final league game will be played next week at Meeker while Marion Brick will meet Waldo at Morral. Green Camp's record now stands at five wins and six losses.

Two Rookies Sign Pacts With Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians said today pitcher Marian Murszewski and infielder Stan Pawlcski have signed contracts for the 1955 season. Terms were not made public.

Murszewski, 24, had a 10-10 record and a 3.14 earned run average last year at Tulsa in the Texas League.

Pawloski batted .280 in 55 games with Indianapolis last year after being discharged from the Army.

Radnor Moves Into First Place In YMCA Play

Radnor took over sole possession of first place in the YMCA Open League last night by defeating the Marion Cardington Merchants, 68 - 47. It was Radnor's third straight win of the second round and gave it a percentage grip on the lead position with Bird-McGinnis following closely with two victories and no defeats.

The two leading teams finished the first round far down in the league standings but have roared back in the final half of the season with impressive performances. The Open League, however, is still a toss up as Bibler's Vaults dumped Morral Supply last night to give its second round chances a big boost. Both Morral and Bibler's entered last night's contest with one victory against one loss and the game was a must for both squads. The second round of play now appears to be a battle between Radnor, Bird-McGinnis, Bibler's Vaults and the first round champions, Marion Implement and Supply.

Next week's action will feature the important games. At 8 p.m. Radnor and Bibler will face off in a crucial contest. Radnor can solidify its hold on first place with a win while Bibler can move into a tie with a victory over Radnor. Bird-McGinnis and Marion Implement tangle at 9 p.m. in a must game for both teams.

Radnor jumped to a 27-8 lead over the Marion-Cardington Merchants early and was never pushed throughout the remainder of the game. Four men on the Radnor roster hit for 10 points or more as Butts and Holly flipped in 16 and Stewart and Clark each added 10. Johnson and Henthorne with 18 and 14 points were high for the Merchants.

Bibler's Vaults also got away to an early lead in its game with Morral Supply and was never pushed severely during the final three periods.

Taking a 16-7 lead during the first quarter, Bibler's kept pouring them in to hold a 43-34 cushion at half time. The winners widened their nine-point half time margin to 14 points in the third period and coasted to the win over the final eight minutes. Don West paced Bibler's with 18 points. Ten of them coming in the last quarter, while Bud England followed West with 16. Bob Bartlett of Morral Supply flipped in 17 points while Jack Daum added 12.

Bird-McGinnis dumped Bucyrus for the second week in a row by a 69-62 count in a closely fought game for start to finish. Overcoming the Bucyrus height advantage, the Legion five moved out early to a slim margin and protected it during the entire contest. Its 13-point margin at half-time was the greatest lead the winners were able to reach. Dick Roseberry turned in the top point total for the winners with 22 while Tom Moran and Larry Lesser added 16 each. Bob Young was high man for Bucyrus with 24.

Cage Coach Quits

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Frank Shannon, basketball coach of Tecumseh High School and a member of the board of directors of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches' Assn., resigned his coaching job today because of what he said was insufficient salary.

While coaching at Tecumseh, formerly Olive-Branch, Shannon had a record of 148 games won, 26 lost. His team won a share in six straight Clark County League titles and captured four straight county tournaments.

GENERAL HIKES TIRE PRICE

AKRON—The General Tire & Rubber Co. has increased tire prices. The increases range from 2½ per cent on passenger and smaller truck tires to 7½ per cent on industrial tires. All types of larger truck tires, including commercial and special purpose tires, were raised 5 per cent. Farm tires and all tubes remain unchanged.

Man Sentenced To Penitentiary On 2 Charges

Sentences of one to 15 years and one to seven years were imposed on Thomas H. Muir, 28, of the Ideal Hotel in Common Pleas Court Tuesday, court officials reported today.

Muir pleaded guilty to charges of attempted criminal assault and larceny. On a motion by the prosecution, a lesser charge of attempted criminal assault was substituted for one of criminal assault.

Muir was charged with attacking a Marion County woman last November. After the alleged attack, it was charged he stole the wallet of the woman's husband containing about $200.

Muir was the object of a widespread search by the sheriff's office after the attack, and was picked up in Columbus by police there who had placed a guard on the house of his wife. He was indicted by the January term of the Grand Jury.

Common Pleas Court Judge Paul D. Smith ordered Muir's sentences to run concurrently which will enable him to be paroled at the end of one year if prison officials so decide.

Court officials also announced that Warren T. Ferrin, 18, of Columbus had been placed on probation for four years last week. Ferrin had been indicted on a charge of auto larceny.

He was also ordered to pay damages done to the car in an accident while he was driving it. The damage amounted to $154. He changed a plea of not guilty to one of guilty.

MAN FINED $50, COSTS

C. E. Blevins, 21, of 1055 W. Center St. was fined $50 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Wednesday on a charge of disorderly conduct. He had entered a plea of not guilty when arrested but was found guilty by Judge W. Dexter Hazen.

It's Dry and Mild In Most of Nation

Dry and fairly mild winter weather prevailed in most of the country today with the exception of light rain or snow reported in parts of the East and the Far West.

Fair and somewhat colder is the forecast for Marion and the area tonight, with the low temperature expected to range between 20 and 27 degrees. For Friday, increasing cloudiness is forecast with rain or snow at night.

The coldest temperature in the country, according to an Associated Press dispatch, were in Wisconsin, where it was one below zero early today in Eau Claire and Wausau. High temperatu... ing in Marion Wednesda... and the overnight low r... at 26.

90 Per Cent of Goods Stolen Here Recovered

A 90 per cent recovery of stolen goods was marked up during January by Marion police.

In a monthly summary of department activities, Police Chief Thomas Coon lists a total of $4,026 worth of various items stolen during the month. All of the loot except about $600 worth was recovered, he said.

Three automobiles were stolen during the month and all were recovered. They were valued at $3,300.

Other types of goods stolen were: jewelry and precious stones valued at $150 of which $5 worth was recovered; clothing valued at $185 with none recovered; and miscellaneous items valued at $391 of which $101 was recovered.

There were eight break-ins during the month in which $126 worth of goods was stolen. Seven of these burglaries were later cleared by arrest of one or more persons.

Second Galion Triplet Scheduled To Go Home

GALION — The second of three youngsters born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Willyard of Galion on Feb. 4, was scheduled to be taken home today.

John Willyard was to be released from Galion Community Hospital sometime today and taken home to join his sister, Jean, largest of the triplets, who went home last Sunday with her mother. The third triplet, Joan, remains in the hospital.

The Willyards, who have two other children, Charles, 4, and James, 2, said the birth of the triplets came as quite a surprise, since they were not even expecting twins.

TO MEN GOING BALD

"A common cause of thinning hair," says trichologist D. W. Erickson to the hair-worried person, above, "is blocked hair follicles." Erickson is the director and founder of The Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists of Chicago and will demonstrate the famous Erickson professional home treatment to all who visit him at Hotel Harding in Marion on Saturday, Feb. 19.

Hair Specialist Here Saturday To Demonstrate How To Save Hair And Prevent Baldness

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 — Methods for use in your own home by which you can restore thinning hair and stave off baldness will be demonstrated by Mr. D. W. Erickson, well-known specialist and founder of the Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists, in Marion on Saturday, Feb. 19.

News of Local Interest

Mr. D. W. Erickson will be in Marion on Saturday, Feb. 19 at the Harding Hotel where he will be glad to give you an examination and make recommendations for the prevention of baldness. The hours are 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. No appointment necessary. Just drop in at the hotel and ask for the Erickson suite. No obligation — no embarrassment. All interviews private and confidential.

Erickson, who has directed some of the largest clinics in the world, in Chicago, New York and Montreal, Canada, has proved to thousands over a period of years that his progressive home hair and scalp treatment restores hair in a majority of cases where hair is thinning, thus preventing subsequent baldness.

Cause of Thinning Hair

"With few exceptions," Erickson says, "The scalp that grows 'fuzz' can be reactivated to grow hair of full length and strength.

"Trichologists agree upon certain basic conditions which bring about thinning and spurse areas. Chief among these but not the only one is clogged follicles which can be corrected with careful and conscientious home treatment.

"If accumulations of dirt, dandruff and ineffective 'curealls' clog these follicles," Erickson reveals, "The end result is 'fuzz'."

This Is the Secret

"This 'fuzz' if caught in time can be nurtured to longer length, thereby creating visible thickness. The process is a simple one which anyone may learn and can be practiced successfully in one's own home."

For Home Use Only

Specialist Erickson has devoted years of study to prepare his individualized home treatment. "Almost all the professional work now being done in the field of hair and scalp is confined to the larger metropolitan areas where permanent clinics are established," Erickson says. "Yet it seems to me that persons who have made their homes in smaller cities are entitled to the same professional care. It is my objective to make professional treatment available to all who seek it."

Examine You Free

"I wish to make it exceedingly clear," Erickson says, "that you incur no charge or obligation by visiting with my associate. Your only obligation is to yourself—to free your mind from worries about hair loss, dandruff, itching scalp and other disorders by learning how to take care of your hair. If your trouble is beyond the scope of the Erickson professional home treatment, he will frankly tell you so. However, less than five per cent of the people we examine are 'hopeless'."

Offers No Cure-All

Erickson says he also wishes it clearly understood that his home treatment is neither "mail-order" nor "Cure-All."

"I or one of my trained associates always make a personal examination before suggesting any treatment. There is no one remedy that will relieve every one of the 18 scalp disorders known to cause most baldness."

Those using the treatment mail regular reports into the Erickson headquarters in Chicago where they are studied and changes recommended when necessary.

30 Day Guarantee

Scalp Specialist Erickson says, "The best way for a firm to overcome any initial skepticism on the part of its clients is to guarantee its product. Therefore, any person found acceptable for treatment by myself or any of my staff will be given a 30 day guarantee of satisfaction."

Under this guarantee the most skeptical of persons may make an honest effort to explore the possibilities of the treatment without risking a penny.

"Stop worrying about your hair," Expert Erickson advises. Instead telephone the Hotel Harding, phone 2-1171 where he will be Saturday, Feb. 19, and let him give you a private examination and explain his system in more detail.

Noonan Found Guilty in Trial For Kidnaping

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A federal court jury yesterday convicted Charles F. Noonan, 26, of Columbus, of kidnaping Mrs. Kathryn Lang, 26, of Homstead Park, Pa., and of transporting a stolen car. The jury deliberated less than two hours.

Atty. Henry Reinhard, Noonan's counsel, has three days to file an appeal. Conviction on a kidnaping charge can carry a penalty of life imprisonment.

Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood ordered Noonan placed in custody to await sentencing.

The verdict came after Noonan testified Mrs. Lang had picked him up on the outskirts of Pittsburgh and submitted to his embrace during the drive last Sept. 3.

He said she drove the car into Ohio and told him she might drive closer to Columbus if she had some excuse to tell her husband why she failed to meet him at the Pittsburgh airport. He testified they stopped at a Steubenville restaurant for coffee. The cafe was not named.

Mrs. Lang testified Tuesday that Noonan had entered her car and after telling her he had a gun, ordered her to drive.

She told the jury she was terrified during the ride to Cambridge, Ohio. She said she escaped near Cambridge after Noonan was thrown to the ground and suffered ankle fractures when he tried to reenter the car.

Mount Gilead High Band Plans Opening Concert

MOUNT GILEAD — The Mount Gilead High School Concert Band will offer its first concert of the year Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. It will also be the first appearance of the newly-purchased band risers which will give the band a new look as well as a new and clearer sound.

The band is seated in a new way this year due to the large number of members in the band. It was impossible to seat all of them on stage using the old semi-circular arrangement, so Oscar Beck, band director, has seated them in five rows straight across the stage.

The Friday concert will herald the beginning of a large scale fun and fund raising campaign, that of selling a chocolate bar which will contain a picture of the band.

Immediately following the concert, there will be a reception for the band, parents and friends in the cafeteria.

BALLOTS TO BE TESTED

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ballots from four Hamilton County precincts will be subjected to laboratory tests to see if they bear improper markings. The ballots were subpenaed yesterday by Prosecutor C. Watson Hover. One person already has been indicted for vote county irregularities in last November's election.

Annual Pancake Supper Held By Marion Scottish Rite Club

The annual pancake and sausage supper of the Marion County Scottish Rite Club was held Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple. Approximately 200 members and guests were present.

Addressing the group during the evening was Philip H. Coads, commander-in-chief of Lake Erie Consistory of the Valley of Cleveland. Mr. Coads also is president of the Cleveland Union Stock Yards.

Harold J. Grigsby, president of the local club, presided and introduced Rev. V. E. Busler, who gave the invocation.

Officers of the club for 1955-56 were re-elected and include Mr. Grigsby, president; Russell C. Snare, vice president; Warren G. Cyders, treasurer; Harold W. Hall, secretary.

John W. Barkley of Cleveland, senior grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Ohio; Bruce Peter, secretary of the Scottish Rite bodies of Cleveland; Robert A. Burri, superintendent of the Ohio Masonic Home, and Chris Jensen, both of Springfield; Thomas A. Reber Upper Sandusky, past grand master; Raymond A. Younger, Celina, past grand master; Charles Wilson, Ada, past grand master; Charles K. Cunningham. Galion, grand marshal; David B. Sharp, Columbus, past grand master; J. Wallace Cherry, Columbus, grand treasurer of the Grand Commandery.

Also introduced were the following thirty-third and thirty-second degree Masons: W. E. Linch, Charles E. Rau, Emmery Bender, Rufus M. Shockey, Frank M. Creighton, R. Carlisle Moffitt, J. William Barton, Ralph L. Jacobs, Russell T. Goerke, Irvin R. Lynch, J. Allen Pyne, Bert Williams, Charles P. Clark and Dr. Judson D. Wilison of the Potentant of Aladdin Temple, Columbus; C. Russell Younger, Harry W. Arnold, C. E. Mahoney, Ralph G. Jenkins, Carroll H. Vance, Walter Hessenauer, Galion; and Raymond Siegfried, Delaware; Stuart E. Jones, Marion, grand high priest of the Grand Chapter Royal Arch Masons of Ohio.

The pancakes and sausage were prepared by Chris Turoff and Francis Roush and their committee assisted by the members of the White Shrine.

MILITARY RESIGNATIONS UP

Dean Acheson Visits Old Boss

Ex-Secretary of State Is Guest of Trumans

KANSAS CITY (AP)—After being out of office more than two years, Harry S. Truman and his former secretary of state Dean Acheson are still in agreement.

Acheson, visiting the Trumans this week, appeared at a press conference with the former President yesterday. Truman, who is 70, was asked about his future plans. He replied with a quip he's used before.

"I shall run for president the year I'm 90."

Said Acheson: "If Mr. Truman is elected at 90, I shall be happy to serve with him."

Both feel Adlai Stevenson is the best choice for the 1956 Democratic presidential candidate.

Acheson told newsmen the foreign policies of the Truman and Eisenhower administrations are basically the same. But he said the present policy is not being pursued "as rigorously or effectively" as the former.

Lonesome Democrat

ROCHESTER, N. H. (UP) — All are not Republicans in New Hampshire!

Gov. Hugh Gregg was presiding at a public hearing in the city hall here when a woman holding a baby asked if she might speak from her seat rather than come down front to the microphone.

Before Gregg could assent, a man offered to hold the child. As Mrs. Noreen Winkley walked to the microphone, the governor quipped:

"HE (the baby) probably will grow up to be a good Republican."

"SHE will grow up to be a good Democrat," the mother reported. "I am a Democrat."

BRUSHING UP

NORWICH, Conn. (UP) — Garageman Ted Moore said he studied Latin to learn how to fix a motor. A customer brought him an Italian motor bike and a book of instructions—in Italian. Moore dug up a high school Latin book and was able to figure out enough of the instruction book to get the bike running.

Bucyrus Firemen Again Asking Council for Shorter Work Day

BUCYRUS — City firemen have renewed their campaign for a shorter work week, a proposal rejected Feb. 1 by city Council after Mayor Frank P. Sitler said he opposed the plan.

Members of Local 1120 of International Association of Fire Fighters have presented a strongly-worded letter to Council, urging that Council approve the proposal to reduce the work week from 72 to 56 hours.

The firemen also embodied in their letter a request for a pay increase of $30 a month for regular firemen and $33 a month for the department's two lieutenants. Present pay scale is $285 for firemen and $302 for lieutenants.

The two proposals were referred to Council's finance committee for study of the financial aspects of the requests.

In disapproving the request, Mayor Sitler said it would be necessary to hire two additional firemen, costing the city an extra $6,400 a year, to do an "adequate" job of fire protection. He said the department could manipulate its setup to "get by" without additional firemen, but that the protection would be inadequate.

In January, fire Chief Ralph Mead appeared before Council in behalf of the proposal and asserted the shorter work week could be put into effect without hiring additional men. He said the only extra expense would be $204 a year in additional pay for a third lieutenant.

Chicago Harboring Old Public Enemy

CHICAGO (UP) — Chicago, once known as the haven of "public enemies" such as Al Capone, has acquired what's left of one that operated about 75,000,000 years ago.

He now is known as a gorgosaurus, one of the largest and rarest of the dinosaurs. His skeleton has been acquired by the Chicago Natural History Museum as a gift from members of its board of trustees. It was one of two collected in 1913-1914 by Barnum Brown, paleontologist of the American Museum of Natural History in New York, where the other specimen is on exhibition.

The only known others are on exhibition at the National Museum of Canada, Ottawa, and the U.S. National Museum, Washington, D. C.

The gorgosaurus is about 40 feet long in his present bony form, and his 42-inch long skull will tower more than 15 feet above the ground when mounted.

The gorgosaurus prayed upon all other living creatures of his time. The museum said he is "first cousin" to the tyrannosaurus, a better-known type.

WARNING

Head of Galion Schools Gives Report on City's Needs Survey

GALION — Expansion needs in the elementary grades of the Galion city school system were made more clear today in a preliminary report released by Dwight L. Musselmann, superintendent of schools.

The report is the first step in the school survey being made to determine the extent of expansion of school buildings in Galion. It is concerned with the projected enrollment figures prepared by the Bureau of Educational Research at Ohio State University.

Based upon birth records from the Bureau of Vital Statistics, enrollment in grades one through 12, now 2,221 students, is expected to reach a high of 2,930 by 1961. This is based upon the growth of Galion, as a city, at the rate it has been continuing since 1948. A more conservative figure, a median between the high and low estimates, is the figure of 2,611 students by 1961.

Will Need 23 Rooms

If this conservative figure is used as an indication of growth during the next six years, there will be need for a total of 23 more rooms, plus any special rooms needed, for the elementary children. The report states that eight classrooms will be needed to replace present rooms in use that were not designed for classrooms; six classrooms to release present elementary rooms in the junior high building for junior high classrooms; eight classrooms in addition to any in use at the present time; and one new kindergarten room. Any space needed for special remedial education would be in addition to this.

At present, classes in elementary buildings are meeting in areas which were not designed for classroom use, as follows: the kindergarten of the East elementary is meeting in the basement of the Free Methodist Church and the present kindergarten room at the East School is divided by a new partition to provide an additional classroom at that building. Another class is meeting in the teachers' room of the building

Used as Classrooms

At the North Elementary School, three rooms which were designed for other purposes, teachers' room, the cafeteria and the art and music rooms, are now being used for kindergarten classes.

The cafeteria at the South elementary building was pressed into use as a classroom several years ago, as well as a basement area that has been converted into a kindergarten.

Ten classrooms in the junior high building are being used for the West Elementary. By 1961, the junior high will need six of these rooms to care for the increased enrollment there. Junior high now has 528 students and it is predicted that by 1961 the figure will be 750.

The rate of increase for the senior high school by 1961 is smaller than is predicted for the elementary schools. Predicted enrollment for grades 10, 11, and 12, will be about 487, an increase of 87 students on the high school level.

Supt. Musselman said that another part of the complete building survey that concerns the educational program is under way at this time. A study is being made of the needs of the school and community in various departments. A city-wide survey is being made to study the needs and opportunities in shop and vocational training. Science laboratories, home economics areas and commercial program will be taken into consideration regarding their needs. He said that any additional space must serve both the student and the community in fulfilling their needs.

BRIDGE CLOSED FOR REPAIRS

The bridge on Township Road 186-A over Rocky Fork will be closed until the early part of next week for repairs, Reed Ours, county engineer, reported today. The bridge is being improved with new creosote plants to increase the weight limit.

Youngstown Truck Driver Bound Over To Crawford Jury

BUCYRUS — Joseph G. Allison, 51, Youngstown truck driver, was bound over to the Crawford County Grand Jury at an arraignment here Tuesday before Justice of Peace F. H. Baerkircher on a charge of posting obscene literature.

Allison entered a guilty plea to the charge, which had been filed against him by the Bucyrus post of the State Highway Patrol. The patrol said Allison had written obscene and indecent proposals on the walls of the women's toilet in a state-owned roadside park south of Bucyrus on State Route 4.

Allison admitted at the hearing that he had written the notes 'just because I took a crazy notion to write." The patrol said he twice had been convicted for indecent exposure. He was unable to furnish $2,000 band and is being held in the county jail here.

Arrest of Allison is the second made by the highway patrol here in recent months on posting obscene literature in the same roadside park. Harry J. Abbott, 34, a Cleveland truck driver, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Ohio penitentiary last month by Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll after he was indicted by the grand jury and pleaded guilty to the charge.

Wyandot Farm Youth To Start Tractor Clubs

"Machinery Care and Adjustment" will be stressed by the Wyandot County 4-H Tractor Clubs this year. The two clubs will organize and hold their first meetings at 8 p m. Feb 22 at the Creeger Implement Co in Carey for the Carey Club and at 8 p m Feb 22 at the Farm Bureau store in Upper Sandusky, for the Upper Club.

The program for the 1955 season includes four meetings on caring for and adjusting farm implements, a tractor maintenance review, a tour, and a tractor rodeo

Advisers for the clubs this year will be Charles Newell ad Ray Everhart for the Upper Club and Gene Laube and Richard Tong for the Carey Club.

Ruling in Hillsboro Segregation Case Will Be Appealed

CINCINNATI (AP)—Russell L Carter, Dayton attorney, Wednesday filed notice of an appeal from a U S district court decision which upheld Hillsboro's school zoning resolution

U S District Judge John H Druffel recently upheld the zoning in a suit brought by five Negro mothers who claimed it amounted to segregation of Negroes

Judge Druffel ruled that the zoning, which sends most Hillsboro Negro elementary school pupils to the all-Negro Lincoln School, was a temporary measure until new construction work can be completed at two other grade schools. That was the claim of the Hillsboro school board.

A few Negro pupils now are assigned to the other schools which formerly were all white.

State Patrolman Aids, Then Arrests Driver

INDEPENDENCE Mo (AP) — When State Patrolman A F Closson saw Waldo D Emery trying to get his stalled automobile started he stopped and helped him They got it started

A short time later the patrolman saw Emery again—this time whizzing past his patrol car. Closson testified in Magistrate Court yesterday he contacted Emery again to give him a ticket for traveling 65 miles an hour in a 45-mile-an-hour zone

Emery pleaded guilty and was fined $15

Truck Stop Put Out of Business By Ohio's Pike

The Ohio 14 truck stop, owned by Clyde H. Bailey, went on the auction block yesterday for nonpayment of federal taxes. Bailey said the pike's 22-mile section west of Youngstown, which opened last Dec. 1, ruined his three-year-old business.

Bailey said he handled more than 100 trucks a day before the section opening, but now the same trucks head for the pike's Eastgate entrance to make connections with the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

"You can't blame 'em," Bailey commented. He added:

The sale was ordered by revenue officials, who said Bailey owed about $9,000 in tax payments from fuel oil sales and deductions from workers' wages.

A Youngstown restaurant company made the top bid of $1,250 for the equipment. The building housing the shop had been leased and was not involved in the sale.

Bailey, 37, said of his lost business:

"It was a good thing. We had six working in the restaurant, not counting my wife, and six men on the pumps, working shifts.

Cub Pack Gets Charter

Cub Pack 55 received its charter at the annual meeting held Monday evening in the Oak Street School. The presentation was made to the pack committee by John Fisher of the Scout organization and extension committee.

Following the presentation, each den was presented a sketch on railroading, which was the theme for January. A highlight of the January activities was a trip through the Erie Diesel Shop. During the evening each den was presented an American Flag from the Women's Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Wife Wed Nine Times, Sailor Annuls Marriage

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Richard C. Burke, 21, a Navy man from Arlington, told a Probate Court judge yesterday that his wife was married nine times before without telling him.

He said he first became suspicious when he found several government allotment checks in their home after his marriage in West Virginia last year to Mariquita Campastrano, 25.

FCC Dubious On Testimony By Mrs. Natvig

WASHINGTON (AP) — Turnabout witness Marie Natvig was to return to the Edward Lamb hearing today, even though the presiding examiner now says he "can't believe anything" she has said.

But there were strong indications her further testimony, if any, will be brief, and that everything she has sworn to might be thrown out.

"What judgment could I make except that I can't believe anything Mrs. Natvig has testified to?" Communications Commission Examiner Herbert Sharfman told commission counsel Joseph M. Kittner near the close of yesterday's session.

"How can I make a finding that anything Mrs. Natvig said is correct?"

Mrs. Natvig, a Miami Beach, Fla. divorcee, has recently testified at the hearing involving Lamb, a Toledo, Ohio publisher-broadcaster, that she lied under government pressure at earlier sessions when she associated Lamb with Ohio Communists in the 1930's.

Lamb is seeking to renew his license for WICU-TV in Erie, Pa. The commission, before deciding on this, is conducting an investigation into allegations Lamb once knowingly associated with Communists.

Lamb has denied this vigorously and has called the commission inquiry, now in its 39th hearing day, a frameup.

Angered Florist Needles City Service Department

OMAHA (AP)—After a water main repair job, a sunken cut four feet wide remained in the street in front of Orville Albrecht's florist shop. Nothing was done about it for six weeks. Exasperated, Albrecht put up a sign reading: "After you are killed, this will be repaired."

Two hours later repairs were under way.

But police took down the sign. Violated a law "against cluttering the streets," they said.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

Gains extended to between 1 and 2 points while losses went to around a point. There were some exceptions in the case of unusually strong stocks.

Higher major divisions included utilities, coppers, steels, radio-televisions, and railroads. Lower were a distiller, some chemicals, and the rubbers. Others were steady to mixed.

Trading on the American Stock Exchange was rather light with prices higher. Going up were Beckman Instrument, Bellanca Aircraft, Brazilian Traction, Capital Transit, Catalin, Kingston Products, Midwest Piping, Preston East Dome Mines, and Superior Tool. Lower were Anacon Lead, Creole Petroleum, and Pantepec Oil.

Surprise Treats for Washington's Birthday

Cherry Upside Down Cake

BY Mary Blake Home Service Director Carnation Company

1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 teaspoons double-acting type baking powder
3 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
½ cup water

Cherry Topping:

¼ cup butter
2 cups well-drained canned cherries

Blend eggs, shortening, sugar and vanilla until light and fluffy. Add dry ingredients (which have been sifted together), alternately with Carnation-water mixture. Place batter in 10-inch heavy skillet over Cherry Topping mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375°F) 45-50 minutes. Remove from skillet while still warm by inverting skillet over serving plate. Top with whipped Carnation, if desired.

Whipped Carnation: Chill 1 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk in refrigerator tray until soft crystals form throughout the milk (15-20 minutes). Whip Carnation until stiff (about 1 minute). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 2 minutes longer). Fold in 2 tablespoons granulated sugar and serve immediately on Cherry Upside Down Cake.

Mahoning Interests Testify

Youngstown Area Seen Benefited by Belt Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The proposed 10-mile cargo hauling Lake Erie-to-Ohio River belt convevor was held out to a legislative committee last night as a shot in the arm to the economy of the Youngstown area

The statement to the Ohio House Commerce and Transportion Committee came from Kenneth Lloyd secretary of the Mahoning Valley Industrial Council The committee held its second hearing on the question of whether the Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines Inc should be granted public utility status

Riverlake wants that status which carries with it the right of eminent domain in order to get a right-of way for its novel transportation line designed to carry iron ore and coal

Lloyd told the committee some 15 500 persons are available for work in the Youngstown area Construction of the belt line would require services of 5 000 construction workers for three years and its operation would require 1 500 workers from that time on he added

The promised cheaper transportation of raw materials also would help Mahoning Valley steel mills said Lloyd, because the Mahoning Valley now pays the highest ton mile cost in the United States on coal and iron ore placing that area s mills at a competitive disadvantage '

Lloyd a chief witness for Riverlake, pointed out the largest post-war expansion of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co has been in the Chicago area and implied it was because of cheaper transportation costs there

Riverlake president H B Stewart of Akron, also president of the Akron Canton & Youngstown Railroad forecast a tremendous industrial growth along the belt line s route in anticipation of its construction

Stewart said the United States likely will need about 14 hugh new steel plants in the next 20 years to handle the increased demand that Ohio can reasonable expect to get eight to 10 of them because of Riverlake s lower transportation rates for coal and ore He added

'The railroads are going to be awfully busy handling the growth that comes to this state The developments to come in this state are going to make the railroads claim of loss of business look ridiculous and fantastic '

Committee Chairman Louis J Schneider (R Hamilton) scheduled the next hearing on the controversial bill for next Tuesday night At that time the last of the bill s supporters will be heard along wit hthe first of the opponents

Machines That Respond To Spoken Orders Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—Machines that respond to the spoken word were forecast yesterday by Dr E W Engstrom, executive vice president of Radio Corp of America.

DAIRY SPECIALISTS

Group at Edmonton Working To Boost Canadian Minerals

EDMONTON (UP) — The mining companies digging for the riches of the Canadian north shop for everything from truck drivers to toothpaste through an organization here

Even the government firms tapping some of the world s richest uranium supplies depend for items ranging from help to handkerchiefs on the Alberta and Northwest Chamber of Mines

The chamber tries to steer the mining companies operating in the vast and sparsely populated northern territory to Edmonton businessmen And, on the other hand it tries to steer the businessmen to mine operators who are potential customers

"The mining industry spends over $20 000 000 a year in Edmonton, and this is increasing, a chamber spokesman said An increase in the organization s activities has taken place since G H Finland took over as manager 18 months ago

Finland, a slim bundle of efficiency who has spent a score of years in the mining industry and the Royal Canadian Air Force, used to fly his own plane over the country between here and the Arctic Ocean He is high on the prospects of the north

He admitted that the United States has mineral deposits now reachable by "wheelbarrow or truck" But when the time comes that these run out, he said, the miners of the Canadian north will still be going strong despite their great transportation problems

Finland is doing his best to see that the northern mining machinery runs on all cylinders The chamber's membership is increasing and now stands at 212 member companies and about 240 prospector members

Most of the mining companies operating in the northwest use the employment services of the Chamber of Mines Each year about 2 - 500 employes are lined up for the northern companies

Arrangements are made to screen the men physically and to determine their aptitude for the jobs open The chamber works closely with the federal National Employment Service to obtain recruits

Finland said the chamber is developing trade tests wherever possible, especially for truck drivers and electricians He pointed out that where men are handling $25 - 000 and $30 000 ore trucks, it is important that they know what they are doing where equipment is hard to come by.

Most of the recruiting is done in Canada principally in the mining areas of northern Ontario and around Edmonton There are few Americans among the general run of workers, although a few husband and wife teams out to make a life in the north show up each year During the past few months the percentage of Americans looking for jobs has been fairly high, Finland said

Providing supplies for the men once they go into the north is another major job of the Chamber of Mines The companies call for everything from dresses to cleaning tissues Every bill is checked against the actual movement of material before it is sent to the companies which submit orders

The organization also supplies topographical and geological maps and maps for air navigation in the barren but mineral-rich north It also has mining and technical reports from all over North America

Space is set aside in the office here where mining men and prospectors can read technical magazines type letters and reports and even dictate to stenographers

Finland has ideas and plans for his organization which are beyond the capacity of his present small staff One idea is that Americans who might want to keep in touch with northern developments would be enlisted as members at a nominal fee thus greatly increasing the chamber's resources He has had no chance yet to develop it

Double-Glass Windows Increase Fuel Savings

CchampaIgn, Ill (UP) — Double-glass windows can save up to two tons of coal a winter for an average home or the equivalent in gas or oil according to University of Illinois experts

The university's Small Homes Council measured the savings in a typical Springfield Ill home with 20 average-sized windows The comparable saving in oil was 340 gallons and in gas 415 therms

The council said some type of insulating window—storm sash, storm panel or sealed double or triple glass—should be used in any area where the average January temperature is 35 degrees or colder.

Set at 4.6 Billion Years

Earth's Age Computed by New Method

By THOMAS R. HENRY

WASHINGTON (NANA) — Our part of the universe is at least 4,600,000,000 years old.

This great age has been determined for two stony meteorites picked up in Iowa and Kansas by chemists using the facilities of the Argonne laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission at the University of Chicago, according to a report just issued by the commission.

The age determination was made by measuring the minute amounts of a radioactive form of potassium and a stable form of the rare gas known as argon contained in these "visitors" from the skies. The potassium atoms "blow up" and become argon. The rate of this disintegration is known so that the relative amounts present give a measure of the time that has elapsed since the meteorite solidified so that it could retain the gas.

THE METEORITES ARE part of the solar system, like the earth. They may be the remnants of some anciently disrupted planet. Presumably both they and the earth were formed out of the same "sun mixture" of elements in the beginning and it is quite likely that they became solid at about the same time.

Hence determination of a meteorite's age is considered a fair measure of the age of the solar system in its present form, and probably of the earth itself.

It is striking, says the commission's report, that the age obtained for the two meteorites agrees quite closely with that obtained for the crest of the earth by quite different methods. Uranium in the crust constantly is breaking down into two forms, or isotopes, of lead which chemists can distinguish precisely from ordinary lead. Thus the ratio of radiogenic lead to uranium, the breakdown rate being known, makes possible a close estimate of the age of the rocks in which the two elements are found.

EARTH - CRUST measurements, also carried out with extreme precision at the Argonne laboratory, give age of about 4,500,000,000 years — a difference of only 100,000,000 years from the age determined from the meteorites.

Other measurements also are giving ages of between four and five billion years for the material of the solar system, insofar as it is available for testing, since it came into its present combinations. Admittedly, however, there are still many "bugs" in the method.

In the beginning, presumably, the "sun-stuff" existed as a primordial gas in which the atoms of all 92 elements were mixed fairly evenly. This gas was in a great cloud which presumably extended to about the limits of the solar system. There are various theories on how long it took this primordial gas to solidify into the present substance of the planets or what may have happened to the distribtion of the elements in this solidification.

Up to abot 15 years ago the age of the earth — and probably that of the universe — was estimated, from uranium-lead measurements, at a little over 2,000,000,000 years. These were based largely on samples of what presumably were the earth's oldest rocks obtained from northern Canada and from the Kola Peninsula of northern Russia. This age also agreed with data—now admittedly based on a false hypothesis—on the rate of the universe's expansion.

The age estimates have steadily gone up and up with more refined methods of measurement, but they now seem to be settling at somewhere around 4,600,000,000 years.

News of the District

Upper Sandusky

Two couples were united in marriage in a double wedding ceremony in the St. Paul Lutheran Church in this city Saturday night, Rev. F. LeRoy Sarver, pastor of the church, officiated.

Miss Katherine Eileen Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson C. Rowland of this city, became the bride of Norman Edward Clinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clinger of near Forest. Miss June Matilda Delaplane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Delplane of this city, exchanged vows with Daniel Marcus Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Howard of near Nevada.

Miss Mary Zahn presided at the organ while Mrs. Allen Pagnard of this city was soloist.

Miss Rose Marie Martig of this city was maid of honor for Miss Rowland and Miss Betty Jean Kinsley, also of this city, was Miss Delaplane's only attendant. Serving as best man for Mr. Clinger was Richard Walton of this city. Jack Lawson of Upper Sandusky attended Mr. Howard as best man.

The new Mrs. Clinger was graduated from the local high school with the class of 1954. Mr. Clinger was a Forest High School graduate with the class of 1950. He is engaged in farming.

Mrs. Howard was graduated from the Upper Sandusky High School in 1954 and her husband graduated with the class of 1953. He is employed at the North Electric Manufacturing Company in Galion.

Miss Grace E. Neate of this city became the bride of Emery Hilderbrand also of this city, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 12. The marriage took place in the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Rev. W. A. Tabbert, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a trip to Florida. Upon their return, they will be at home in this city.

City Will Join Observance of Engineer Week

Next week has been designated Engineers' Week in Ohio by Gov. Frank Lausche in a special proclamation urging citizens of Ohio to extend recognition and honor to the engineers who have earned the thanks and appreciation of the citizens.

Special events will be held in Marion Thursday and Friday. A dinner meeting will be held Thursday at the YMCA featuring a talk by A. C. Neff of Middletown, president-elect of the National Society of Professional Engineers.

At the dinner meeting, the past presidents of the Marion Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers will be presented.

Then on Friday, a group from the Student Chapter of Ohio Northern University will make a tour of industrial plants in Marion and will be guests at a luncheon at the Marion Engineer Depot. Hosts at the luncheon will be the Marion Power Shovel Co., Fairfield Engineering Co. and Ohio Edison Co.

Other activities will be held throughout the state during the week. Statewide observance of Engineers' Week is sponsored by the Ohio Society of Professional Engineres under the direction of Paul A. Harlamert of Cleveland, state president; and Frank M. Williams of Columbus, chairman of the Engoneers' 'week committee. Observance locally is under the direction of Edward Groeniger, president of the Marion Chapter.

News of Granges

PROGRESSIVE

A covered dish supper opened the Tuesday night meeting of Progressive Grange. Mrs. Mae Fairchild and Mrs. Harlan Rapp had charge. Vernon Gruber, overseer, presided for the meeting in the absence of Howard Click, grange master.

Two new members were welcomed from Lincoln Grange No. 1957 in Wyandot County. Jack Danner, a member of the executive committee, reported on the new plumbing recently installed in the kitchen of the grange hall.

For the program hour, a school room was portrayed with Mrs. Jack Danner acting as the teacher and Juvenile Grange members as the pupils. Each pupil named an important birthday in February. Mrs. Danner then read the article, "I Speak for Democracy," written by Elizabeth Ellen Evans of Akron.

It was announced that degree practice will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in the grange hall and all officers were requested to attend.

Short Circuit Helps Cut Police Chief's Light Bill

FARMER CITY, Ill. (UP) — Police Chief O. W. Reinke did a double-take when he got around to reading his light meter here.

The chief, whose various duties include reading city light and water meters, couldn't understand his low kilowatt hours, and a check revealed the reason—the mechanism was running backward.

A new meter was installed and proceeded to run in reverse. Investigation disclosed that the line was shorted at a nearby used car lot.

EAT DAFFODIL FARM "Higher Protein To Calorie Ratio" ENRICHED BREAD FOR

TRIM LEAN FLESH

The easier scientific way to exercise weight control is by controlling the appetite control center of the human brain. When you eat a protein-containing food 30 to 60 minutes before a meal and it maintains the blood sugar level high enough, it normally appeases your appetite control center. Which reduces your craving for food. So you can eat less.

RICH RED BLOOD

Blood cells are protein structures. Thus, plenty of protein is needed for rich red blood. Daffodil Farm Bread is also enriched with iron . . . another important part of your blood.

Safe to say, protein is the most important food for the body. All cells are essentially protein in structure. It takes protein to build them.

STRONG BONES AND TEETH

Bones and teeth growth is dependent upon protein. For protein makes the "mold" into which Nature puts the hard minerals that make the bones.

The "growing ends" of the long bones which determine height must have plenty of the right kinds of protein. Or growth will be retarded due to improper or inadequate deposition of minerals.

STRENGTH AND VITALITY

On top of which, many of the hormones are made of proteins. Including some of those which regulate the most vital processes.

Contains About 26% Less Calories To Complete Protein . . . Than The Average of Whole Wheat Bread or Ordinary White Breads Tested

A Remarkable New Advance In Nutrition Made Possible By The New Miracle Protein "Booster" From Milk

A White Bread Better Than Whole Wheat

No one questions the health advantages of whole wheat bread. But few relish the taste.

Tastes Better And Toasts Better

Not only does Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread give you more complete protein than ordinary whole wheat bread. But gives you more vitamins and minerals. (See chart.)

And—Daffodil Farm Bread contains about 26% less calories to complete protein than the average of whole wheat bread or ordinary white breads tested.

And we believe you will find it beats any bread for toasting. It is simply wonderful!

Denver Home Economist Approves Daffodil Farm Bread

"Daffodil Farm Bread originally interested me because of its high protein food value. After using it, however, I became attached to it because of its wonderful quality and flavor. It does cost more, but is certainly worth more. I feel the milk and all-butter shortening make it taste better and toast better."

Mrs. Steven Kilpatrick

Director, Denver Dairy Council

WHY 4 SLICES OF DAFFODIL FARM BREAD ARE EQUAL IN PROTEIN FOR HEALTH TO 5 SLICES OF WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

DAFFODIL FARM BREAD 79%

100% WHOLE WHEAT BREAD 53%

(Figures are per cent distribution of complete protein as limited by lysine [complete protein contains 5.3 g. of lysine per 100 g. protein] of equal weights of Daffodil Farm Bread and the average of eleven Whole Wheat Breads tested; lysine values based on microbiological assays by Food Research Laboratories.)

Slice for slice, compared with 100% Whole Wheat Bread, Daffodil Farm Bread gives the following relative values:

Calcium	+121%
Vitamin B_1	+7%
Vitamin B_2	+116%
Niacin	+44%
Iron	−7%

'Ghost' Metal Produced in Atomic Pile

By THOMAS R. HENRY

WASHINGTON (NANA) — Two "ghost metals," radioactive elements which were part of the original composition of the earth but which had disintegrated long before the time of man, now are being produced in sizable quantities — amounts as big as grains of sand — at the Oak Ridge laboratories of the Atomic Energy Commission.

At least one of the metals, if it can be obtained in larger quantities, has unique properties which may make it of considerable practical importance in atomic energy development. The metals are promethium and technicium.

It has long been recognized that the metals must have existed at some time to fill in gaps of the atomic table. But even the most refined methods of chemical analysis produced no trace of them anywhere. It was concluded they were "dead" forever.

Then both were located in the fragments of early uranium atom fission experiments. Still they existed only as single atoms which could not be isolated from the rest of the debris and which were so highly radioactive they disappeared in a short time.

Though new experiments, however, it now has been possible to obtain both metals in amounts as large as a gram — about a 30th of an ounce — from radioactive wastes. Minute as these amounts are, they make it possible for the first time to learn what these rarest substances in creation look like and some of their properties which may prove valuable.

Technicium appears to be far the most important. The Oak Ridge experimenters have found it a silver-gray metal with a very high melting point. Its density is about that of silver and it is slightly magnetic. When combined with oxygen, it occurs as a black solid, resembling manganese dioxide.

The possible practical vale of technicim is that it shows considerable ability to soak up slow neutrons, capture of which is of considerable importance in atomic reactor programs. Technicium has an important place in the history of the atomic age in that synthetic elements produced from atom splitting. It was called "technicium" because it was entirely a product of technology.

Promethium belongs to the group of rare earth elements and as yet nothing has been determined about its properties.

Of perhaps greater significance, however, has been the separation at Oak Ridge of pound lots of the rare earths related to promethium — gladolinium, dysprosium and europeum. All these are metallic elements, and in their ordinary forms not radioactive. They had hitherto been obtainable only in extremely minute quantities and have been restricted to very special scientific uses.

The rare earths, an atomic energy report points out, have many practical uses. Among these are in graphite rods for searchlights, motion picture projectors, in waterproofing textiles, in high-grade camera lenses and in polishing optical glass.

U.S. Use of Electricity Triples in Last Decade

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Use of electrical lighting in the United States has tripled in the past 10 years, according to an electrical industry spokesman.

"The national use of electric light today is equivalent to the year-long burning, 24 hours a day, of 300,000,000 75-watt incandescent light bulbs," a spokesman for Westinghouse Electric Corp. said.

Part-Ownership Not Understood

Firm's Employes Reject Stock Bonus

By STANLEY KLIGFELD

NEW YORK (NANA) — If you want to give away part-ownership of your firm to employes in the form of shares of stock, make sure the recipients know what the terms "par value," "shares," and "stock" mean.

Otherwise, warns Arthur Basescu, president of Bassons Industries Corp., a plastic fabricating firm here, your efforts to give workers that "feeling of ownership" may boomerang.

Basescu knows what he's talking about. That's because he was learned the hard way some of the pitfalls of giving stock to employes without advance briefing.

"Our efforts to make employes part and parcel of ownership resulted in the first labor friction we have had since the company was founded 31 years ago," he declared.

The Bassons president referred to last Christmas, when his 20 employes opened their pay envelopes. They were looking for cash or some other so-called practical gift.

What they saw, instead, were "pieces of paper," as one of the disgruntled employes described them, marked: "Bassons Industries Corp., common stock, par value 50 cents a share."

"FIVE OR SIX employes came storming into my office demanding that we change the 'useless' shares for something else," Basescu related.

One of our men said that he would rather have a practical gift and offered to exchange his six shares for a carton of cigarettes."

In addition to many employes not knowing anything about the meaning of the stock shares, some of the recipients, including men in the upper echelons of Bassons, thought that the 50 cents par value meant that the stock was worth 50 cents a share.

It was learned that two enterprising men in the plant succeeded in buying shares from other employes at a "100 per cent mark-up," or for $1 a share. They are now, it is understood, proud owners of more than 100 shares each.

Bassons common, which is traded in the over-the-counter market, sold at around $2 a share at the time all this was going on. The price now is about $2.50.

MISUNDERSTANDINGS which resulted from the stock gift have since been cleared up through personal meetings between Basescu and employes and through small seminars conducted by foremen of various sections.

"After the men understood what stock ownership was all about," Basescu said, "The employe who previously wanted a carton of cigarettes instead of stock came to me and said he would not now exchange his shares for three cartons of cigarettes."

Basescu added:

"Despite the fact that we initially overlooked telling employes what our stock gift was all about, the situation has since been corrected.

"We are still convinced that giving our men shares in the company will, over the years, be a major morale builder and benefit our company."

Skyscraper Nears Completion Stage

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — The Atlas Building, tallest structure in Latin America and the tallest armored concrete structure in the world, will be ready for use by mid-1955.

Already the 40-story giant glistens white and has a finished appearance from even a short distance. Homeseekers are clamoring for the right to occupy the 220 apartments consisting of a total of about 1,000 rooms.

Three huge tanks—one on the ground floor, another on the 20th, and another, with a capacity of 100,000 liters, at the top—insure an ample supply of water. And a power station in the building steps up the electricity from the city lines to necessary amperage. There is also an emergency diesel power unit in case the city system fails.

On the ground floor there will be a moving picture theater with a seating capacity for 700, plus a bank and four shops facing Leandro M. Alem Blvd. which runs parallel to the River Plate.

The top floor of the building will become a television studio for Radio el Mundo, a privately-owned network. Radio el Mundo will construct a television antenna on top of the studio.

Custom of Head Hunting Finally Stopped in India

NEW DELHI (UP) — India's Northeast Frontier Agency (NEFA) has succeeded in stopping head-hunting in the tribal areas that form the northeast border between India and China.

NEFA, which has been operating for three years, did the job without firing a shot. The task was completed by gaining the friendship of the tribes and persuading them to change their customs.

The job was not easy, for the culture and art of the tribes was based on the possession of human heads. The warrior who had taken the largest number of heads was entitled to the largest tomb after death and for him were built great bamboo horns, 400 feet long. And for centuries the elders of the villages have pointed with pride to the rows of human heads which they secured as trophies in wars against their neighbors.

Girls Outnumber Boys

Lower California Set for Expansion

MEXICALI, Mex. (UP) — The government of the state of Lower California has signed an agreement with a firm of engineers to prepare a detailed study of the state and advise on how improvements may best be made.

Gov. Braho Maldonado signed the contract with Ingenieria y Arquitectura Internacionales, a Mexican corporation associated with the Washington firm of Thomas B. Bourne.

The list of items to be studied include the construction of superhighways throughout the state, development of hydro - electric power, water resources, sewage disposal and a storm drainage.

Results of the survey will be used as a guide to the government and as a means of bringing foreign capital into the state.

Advertising helped make the difference

WASHDAY WAS DRUDGERY in Grandmother's day — long hours of sweating, straining, back-breaking work. Today's housewife uses a modern washer and dryer. Manufacturers have reduced washday chores to a turn of a dial.

But to mass produce millions of washers and dryers, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new home appliances — and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made—keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: newer, better home appliances at prices more people can afford. Advertising helped make the difference—in home appliances, and in our American way of life.

Serve Washington's Birthday Dessert

Bing Cherry Sauce on a Pound Cake or Lemon Fluff Will Be Tasty

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Need an excuse to serve a luscious cherry dessert? Then make one in honor of George Washington's Birthday

We haven't yet met the person who didn't enjoy a dessert that featured plump juicy purple - red cherries

So try our Bing Cherry Sauce There are good reasons why it may lay claim to your culinary affections First, you can keep the cherries needed in this recipe on your pantry shelf The other ingredients called for in the sauce recipe are cupboard items too Second a few minutes of stirring and cooking and it s ready Third it can be used so many ways Here are half a dozen of them

1 Serve Cherry Sauce with Lemon Fluff — a combination of lemon gelatin orange juice and whipped cream for which we are giving you the recipe

3 Ladle it over airy crisp waffles swathed in melting butter Now that s something good

4 Want to dress up those oh so-nutritious but plain-jane baked custards? Then bring on the Bing Cherry Sauce Or maybe it is just everyday packaged vanilla pudding (regular of instant variety) that needs the glamor treatment Cherry Sauce will help here too

5 Ever try Cherry Sauce on Creamy Rice Pudding? You have a delightful surprise in store

Cherry Sauce Is Good Over Cake.

BING CHERRY SAUCE

Ingredients 1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) dark sweet cherries ½ cup sugar 4 teaspoons corn starch 3 tablespoons lemon juice 1 tablespoon butter or margarine ¼ teaspoon almond extract

Method. Turn cherries into a strainer to drain pit and set aside Mix sugar and cornstarch together thoroughly in saucepan Gradually add cherry juice stirring until smooth each time be sure all lumps of cornstarch are dissolved Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until boiling and slightly thickened Remove from heat Stir in lemon juice, butter and almond extract, add cherries

LEMON FLUFF

Ingredients 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin 1 cup boiling water ½ cup orange juice 1 cup heavy cream 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar, Bing Cherry Sauce

Method Add gelatin to boiling water stir until all granules are dissolved Stir in orange juice Chill until it begins to set Whip cream when partly thickened add sugar, continue to whip until as thick as mayonnaise Fold thickened gelatin and whipped cream together Turn into individual molds chill for 3 hours before serving Unmold in sherbet glasses and pour Bing Cherry Sauce around outside edges of Lemon Fluff Makes 8 servings

TALL CACTUS

HARVARD, Neb (UP) — Six years ago Mrs Nora Mihm's new house plant was a two inch cactus The plant now is 82 inches tall Mrs Mihm said and is only six inches from the ceiling We may have to cut a hole in the roof, she added

Heart Fund Drive To Start in Galion

GALION—Fifty per cent of the people who died in Galion in 1954 had some heart ailment This is a fact that is spurring on the workers in Galion who will participate in the two-hour drive for funds for the Galion Heart Fund Sunday afternoon

Some 150 women are expected to make a door-to-door canvass of Galion homes from 2 to 4 p m Sunday The drive is being sponsored by the Galion Rotary Club with Robert Searingen as chairman of the campaign

Swearingen has 15 captains and each has secured 10 solicitors Mrs Robert Ricksecker is handling publicity, and C E McDonald is serving as treasurer

The drive will be set off by sirens and whistles

Captains who are serving are Mrs Marion Emmerson, Mrs Fred Conklin Mrs Donald Smith Mrs J Lawrence Maidens, Mrs Samuel Manning Mrs Maurice D Wells Mrs Howard Baker, Mrs Lawrence Johnston Mrs Willis P Emmer Mrs Harold Miley Mrs Ralph Cobey, Mrs William Fleiner Mrs Thelma Clements, Mrs Robert L Moulton and Mrs Ed Sprow

Country Letter Carrier Recalls Earlier Career

WILLIAMSTOWN Va (UP)—Robert Clogston who retired recently after 39 years as a rural mail carrier recalls that it was pretty rough when he started the job

Clogston said he started working for the postoffice at the age of 21 In those days he had to get up at 4 p m do the chores on his family s farm and start his mail route at 7 a m

There were many winter days when he had to walk behind his sleigh and hold it upright as he plowed through drifted snow He spent a full day covering his 25 mile route

When the automobile became the rural letter carrier s greatest asset Clogston was able to cover his route in a few hours except when the New England winters made the going tough

The New York State Thruway joins seven of New York s largest cities and serves an area containing 85 per cent of the state s total population

Mount Gilead Man Realizes His Dream by Building Farm Roller

MOUNT GILEAD — George Shade, Mount Gilead welder recently completed some work he has wanted to do for the past 20 years

He has made a farm roller entirely by himself in his shop here on S Rich St The roller could be a boon to wheat or grass farmers and golf course operators or could be used for use on athletic fields or other large expanses of lawns if tests Shade hopes to conduct soon work out Tests of the three wheel roller made so far indicate that it will do all that is expected of it

Has Many Advantages

The self-propelled roller has many advantages over rollers now in use One advantage is that it is self-propelled Disadvantages of most rollers now used on farms is that they are either not heavy enough or that the tractor drawing them makes deep ruts and sometimes causes more damage than the good it might do

Although Shade has wanted to build the contraption for 20 years he didn t get around to starting work on it until last year

In all he has put an estimated 1 800 hours of time on it Most of the parts are scrap metal or pieces he has picked up

The one front and two rear steel rollers were custom made in Mansfield from five-sixteenths inch boiler plate and are perfectly round Later they will be fitted so that they can be filled with a ton of water to give added weight to the machine Weight of the machine at the present time is estimated at 3 300 pounds

Operated by Levers

The roller is powered by a 1939 Chevrolet engine with a John Deere chain drive to the rear two rollers A hydraulic steering mechanism permits easy turning of the front roller By braking one of the rear rollers, the machine can almost turn around on a dime, a feat that most rollers cannot come close to performing

The steering mechanism is from a Huber road grader and is operated by two levers in the enclosed cab The cab has two seats and Shade planned for a while to put in dual controls, but later gave the idea up

One of the first tests is expected to be made at the Mount Gilead golf course early this spring If these tests prove that the machine can be operated successfully Shade hopes to add a seeder to the front and a lime spreader to the rear so that it can be a useful farm tool

The roller is eight feet and 10 inches wide and nine feet and 10 inches long He expects that it will be able to roll approximately 50 acres in a day

One of Shade's next projects will be the building of a special trailer to haul the roller from one jo to another

Shade does not intend to paint the roller

Upper Sandusky

Miss Elaine Gohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gohl, of west of Upper Sandusky, became the bride of Dale Kear, son of Leland Kear of near Forest, and Mrs. Mildred Kear, Marion.

The ceremony took place Friday, Feb. 11, at 4:30 p.m. in the Big Oak Evangelical United Brethren Church, Rev. Richard Ward officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woods of near Forest were their attendants. Mrs. Herman Kear was organist.

A wedding supper was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woods following the ceremony.

Mrs. Kear attended Salem High School. Mr. Kear, a graduate of Wharton High School, is engaged in farming. They will reside on the bridegroom's father's farm near Forest.

Mrs. Garnetta Traxler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kinley of near Upper Sandusky became the bride of Haven Ballentine of this city. The ceremony was performed Saturday, Feb. 12, in the chapel of the Evangelical and Reformed Home for the Aged. Rev. E. E. Zechiel, superintendent of the home performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and friends with the residents and staff of the home as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larick of Upper Sandusky attended the couple.

Class of 50 Years Ago Finds No. 13 Is Lucky

GOWANDA, N. Y. (UP) —Thirteen apparently is a lucky number for 13 former Gowanda High School girls who have maintained contact for 50 years.

They were superstitious about the number 13 when they banded together back in 1905, but all are still alive, keep in touch with each other and have occasional reunions.

Only three of the women still reside in Gowanda. Five live in the Buffalo, N. Y. area, while the rest are scattered from coast to coast. The last reunion was held in 1948.

Eighteen infantry divisions of the National Guard served in World War II — nine in Europe, nine in the far Pacific.

My Newspaper Route Helps Me Enjoy Life

Yes, sir, there certainly are many advantages in having a newspaper route

I'm earning my own money, too. which helps me to pay for many other summertime activities and hobbies. Of course, some of my profits go into my bank account and will help me go to college some day. At the same time I'm learning how to handle money and meet the public. In short, I'm learning to run a business . . . my business.

All good businessmen have someone trained to take over their work so they can enjoy a vacation. Another boy, trained by me to give my customers good service, will carry on for me while I am on vacation with my family. It will be an opportunity for him to learn about the newspaper route business and I know he'll want a route of his own after delivering mine.

THERE YOU HAVE IT! I'M EARNING, LEARNING AND HAVING FUN ON MY NEWSPAPER ROUTE.

Single Stocking Fits Any Size Of Leg or Foot

The term "stretch" isn't new to the clothing industry. For two years, men's socks made to fit any size foot have been on the market. Some manufacturers are making children's wear of a yarn which "grows" with the child. Two years ago, women's nylons with a stretch foot came to market in small quantities.

But now, several companies are promoting stretch hosiery. Dozens of ads have shown in trade papers. Chadbourn Hosiery Mills of Charlotte, N. C., predicts women will make a major switch to this type of nylon in the current year.

To explain that term "stretch" a little further: It is a patented process, according to William Williamson, president of the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers. The elasticity of the stocking comes from the method of twisting the nylon yarn, but it remains pure nylon.

The manufacturers of the stretch hosiery claim it will fit better and is a blessing for the woman who has trouble finding proper fit in other nylons.

Williamson said the stretch nylons now cost more than the others. And although they are not yet being made as filmy as the traditional nylon, in apperance on the leg they look attractively sheer.

Germans Open Old Castles to Tourist Trade

FRANKFURT (UP) — West Germany's poor but titled families are throwing open their stately homes to tourists to make an honest dollar.

The latest issue of the West German Tourist Association's information bulletin offers accommodation in a genuine Rhineland castle for as little as 76 cents a day.

The association said some of the castles prepared to take paying guests "belong to plain knights, others to princely families."

They are advertised as "tourist quarters extraordinary," and the association said that about 30 castles were available to the tourist seeking something different.

So far none of the castles is advertising the family ghosts, but the spectre of dwindling incomes and high taxation is certainly among the reasons for the decision to turn the "stately homes of Deutschland" into hotels with built-in snob appeal.

Since the war Germany's titled families, probably the most numerous in Europe, have fallen on hard times. Many of their money-making family estates have fallen into Russian hands or been "collectivized" by East German Communists. In Western Germany the taxman, currency reform and the aftermath of war have done the damage.

THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

NOT CHESTNUTS
ALL HE HANKERS FOR IS THE HAPPINESS OF HIS CHILDREN. AND HE'S GOT A DEATHLY FEAR THAT MAYBE HE'S A MILLSTONE AROUND THEIR NECKS. WHEN A MAN FEELS THAT WAY, HONEY...
...THERE'S TWO THINGS HE CAN CHOOSE FROM. HE CAN TAKE A LONG WALK AND NEVER COME BACK, OR HE...HE CAN FIND HIMSELF A PERSON WHO'LL TAKE CARE OF 'IM, LEAVING THE CHILDREN TO LEAD THEIR OWN LIVES WITHOUT THE BURDEN OF THEIR PARENTS!

BLONDIE By Chic Young

WHAT DID YOU SAY, DEAR?
I SAID MRS. MASON GOT A NEW MINK COAT
HE DID?
I SAID SHE DID
SHE DID WHAT, DEAR?
SHE GOT A NEW MINK COAT
WHO DID?
NEVER MIND-- I'M GOING TO SLEEP

SUPERMAN By Wayne Boring

WELL, PAL, WHAT DO YOU THINK NOW? CLARK KENT WAS ON THAT PHONE--I'D KNOW HIS VOICE ANYWHERE--AND SUPERMAN WAS RIGHT HERE WITH US!
IT--IT LOOKS LIKE I'M NOT A VERY GOOD MIND-READER, SUSIE! I'M SORRY...
MAYBE I WAS JUST A FLASH-IN-THE-PAN, SUSIE! MAYBE I'M GETTING ALL WASHED UP!
WITH PERFECT TIMING AND A LITTLE EXPERT VENTRILOQUISM--TO SAY NOTHING OF WILL POWER IN CONTROLLING MY THOUGHTS--I THINK I'VE MANAGED TO CONVINCE SUSIE THAT SUPERMAN ISN'T CLARK KENT!

GASOLINE ALLEY By Frank King

If he's the right man, college professor or truck driver, he gets my vote.
